Wilson Says Talks With Johnson OK

Leaders Set Plans For Formation Of NATO Atomic Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today his talks with President Johnson have been completely successful in setting objectives for the formation of a nuclear weapons force in NATO and laying guidelines for Allied consultation.

Wilson also declared at a news conference winding up his Washington conferences that "we are prepared to go forward with all proposals" including a U.S. plan for an Allied jointly owned and mixed-manned nuclear surface fleet.

West Germany would be a central member of this force.

Wilson expressed hope that

Wilson expessed hope that the French government of President Charles de Gaulle will be interested in the new, broadened approach to a solution of the nuclear weapons problem in NATO which has been worked out here.

Wilson declined to be drawn into a detailed discussion of the proposals which he made to Johnson, saying he will deal with them and with his policy toward the U.S. multilateral force plan in a speech in the House of Commons next week.

He would not say at this time whether Britain would be willing to be an active member of the mixed-manned force or would help pay for it.

Britain's primary interest, however, is in getting creation of the nuclear force to which the British would assign their bomber and prospective nuclear submarine units with Allied sharing of the costs as well as the strategic control.

In two days of conferences ended Tuesday night, Wilson and Johnson agreed that the United States and Britain will start urgent consultations with other nations this week aimed a working out the broadened NATO nuclear program in more concrete detail.

The two leaders reportedly stopped short of trying to agree on a formula embracing the new, broader approach, but officials said they had reached accord on the general guidelines to be followed in the consultations.

A communique, released at the White House, bore out the evidence of accord on next steps, saying:

"They agreed that the objective in this field is to cooperate in finding the arrangements which best meet the legitimate interests of all members of the alliance, while maintaining existing safeguards on the use of nuclear weapons, and preventing their further proliferation."

Wilson scheduled a midmorning news conference at the British Embassy, and it was expected that he would provide further information on the results of his sessions with Johnson.

Hassle Continues On Redistricting, Reapportionment

In Senate Probe

Baker's Banking Records Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators plan to explore publicly today the bank records of Bobby Baker and a witness who accused him of engineering an alleged political payoff on a government construction contract.

The Senate Rules Committee said one of its investigators, Edward T. Hugler, would testify about an inspection he has made of the bank records of Baker and Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent.

Reynolds swore last week that he was the "bag man" for channeling $25,000 to the 1960 Democratic campaign fund from Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor. McCloskey is a former Democratic fund raiser and former ambassador to Ireland.

The white-haired McCloskey, now retired, told the committee there was "not an ounce of truth" in Reynolds' testimony. He said an overpayment McCloskey & Co. made to Reynolds' insurance firm was just "a goof."

Before Hugler and possibly others testify, the committee scheduled a closed session to discuss its future course in its politically explosive probe of Baker's affairs while he was secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Baker resigned under fire Oct. 7, 1963, from his $19,600-a-year post and has refused to answer questions in two appearances before the committee about the fortune he built up while on the Senate payroll.

Reynolds testified that under instructions from Baker he billed McCloskey's firm for about $35,000 more than was due on a performance bond for construction of the District of Columbia Sports Stadium.

As the "bag man," Reynolds said he kept $10,000 of the overpayment and gave the rest to Baker in five lots of $5,000 cash for relay for the 1960 Democratic campaign.

Under instructions from the committee, Hugler examined Baker's and Reynolds' bank records in an effort to find out if he could trace the alleged payments.

At Tuesday's committee hearing Howard Gittis of Philadelphia, a lawyer for McCloskey, denounced Reynolds as a man who has "given false testimony" to other federal agencies and who is not worthy of belief.

Viet Forces Retake Hill, Kill 30 Reds

QUI NHON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces recaptured a strategic hill in the An Lao mountain valley from Communist guerrillas today, ending a hard three-day battle.

One U.S. soldier was killed, another was missing and two were wounded at the end of the fierce fighting in the valley 300 miles northeast of Saigon. More than 50 Vietnamese government soldiers were believed killed.

The Communists suffered at least 30 dead but captured two 4.2-inch mortars—the largest in general use in Viet Nam—and 300 rounds of ammunition. They also destroyed or damaged five armored amphibious personnel carriers.

A Vietnamese division commander said American air power saved the day. "Except for the helicopters, I'm sure the district headquarters would have been lost," he declared.

Industry Area Fire Causes $9,000 Loss

Aid Requested For Family Of 7 Left Homeless In Blaze

Damage was estimated at about $9,000 in a fire which swept through a five-room Industry area home late Tuesday afternoon, leaving a family of seven homeless.

Mr. and Mrs. Marko Ratkovich of Wolf Run returned from a shopping trip about 5:30, with their five children, and found smoke coming from the eaves of the two-story house, according to Industry Police Chief Ray Hendershot.

Ratkovich opened the front door, and found the interior burning and full of smoke.

About 30 Industry and Ohioville firemen responded but the blaze was out of control when they arrived. It apparently started on the lower floor of the structure, which is insured.

The cause of the blaze had not been determined.

Hendershot said that clothing is being sought for the family and anyone with articles to donate may phone him at 634-9266.

The children include a year-old baby, two boys, 5 and 6, and two girls, 10½ and 12½.

The family is staying with Ratkovich's father, Eli Ratkovich of Industry R.D. 1.

E. 5th St. Signal Falls; Police Direct Traffic

Police directed traffic manually for more than six hours Tuesday afternoon and night after a cable parted and allowed a signal to crash to the pavement at one of East Liverpool's busiest intersections.

The traffic light at E. 5th St. and Broadway fell about 1 p.m., but was virtually undamaged, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey reported. Ohio Power Co. crews strung the cable across the intersection again and Sayre Electric Co. employes restored the signal. The light was back in service at 7:30.

Chief A. J. Radeschi said police received the first report of the fallen light from a Walnut St. resident who witnessed the mishap.

Political Implications Denied In Cuba Ouster

HAVANA (AP) — Sources high in Fidel Castro's government say that Augusto Martinez Sanchez, who shot himself after he was removed as labor minister, was ousted "entirely for administrative reasons." They denied there were any political implications.

Soviet Cuts '65 Budget On Military

Dips $555 Million; Kosygin Asks Other Powers Follow Suit

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin announced today a cut of 500 million rubles — $555 million — in the Soviet Union's military budget for 1965 and called on other major powers to follow suit.

Kosygin told the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's rubber-stamp parliament, that the Soviet cut and an expected reduction of military spending in the United States "constitute a definite positive step toward reducing international tension."

He said the Soviet Union attaches great importance to the further reduction of the military budgets of the big nations.

The new Soviet premier said the military budget next year will total 12.8 billion rubles, or 12.9 per cent of all government expenditures, as against 14.5 per cent in 1964.

The military budget in 1964 totaled 13.3 billion rubles and was 600 million rubles less than 1963. Western officials contend that much Soviet defense spending is disguised under nonmilitary items in the budget, and some Western military analysts believe total military spending this year is well over twice the budgeted figure.

The official value of the Soviet ruble is $1.11.

Kosygin spoke at the opening of the first Supreme Soviet session since the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev on Oct. 14.

Although still a member of the Supreme Soviet, Khrushchev did not appear for the session.

Kosygin reaffirmed Soviet devotion to Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence and said: "We are in favor of the development of relations with the United States. There have been some developments in that field, although they have not been great."

But he denounced the "aggression of the Americans and the Belgians in the Congo" and repeated Soviet pledges "to render the necessary assistance" to Communist North Viet Nam and to Cuba "if the aggressors dare to raise their hands against them."

He made no pledge of assistance to the Congolese rebels, however.

Hearing Slated Today

Rail Firms File Petition To Nip Walkout Dec. 15

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's railroads have filed a petition in U.S. District Court seeking to prevent a scheduled strike 10 days before Christmas by three shop unions.

The unions, representing some 53,000 workers, called a walkout Tuesday for 6 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 15, after talks broke down in Washington over wages.

A strike would cripple 187 railroads and terminal and switching companies which handle more than 90 per cent of the nation's rail traffic, a union spokesman said.

Judge Joseph Sam Perry scheduled a hearing today on the railroad petition filed late Tuesday.

The unions — electrical workers, machinists and sheet metal workers — reinstated a strike call originally set for Nov. 23, but postponed for further negotiations.

The railroads alleged in the petition that the strike deadline is an illegal attempt to compel the railroads to bargain directly with the three unions, rather than with the AFL-CIO Railway Employes Department, which had been authorized to bargain for them.

The carriers sought a temporary restraining order to prevent a strike, picketing or other types of interference with the movement of trains. The petition also sought a permanent injunction.

The railroads charged that a nationwide work stoppage would cost them a daily loss in operating revenues of $26,752,000.

The petition called the demands for the three unions "wholly inconsistent with the recommendations of the President's Emergency Board."

House OK's Bill Raising Judges' Pay

Plan Approved To Guarantee Loans To College Students

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio House neared the end of its legislative agenda today but the end to the special session still was keyed to congressional redistricting and legislative reapportionment.

The House gave swift approval Tuesday night to three bills, including one to provide judicial pay raises, and a proposed constitutional amendment permitting the state to guarantee loans to college students.

An apparent behind-the-scenes hassle developed in the Senate which had been slated to vote on House-approved reapportionment. Senators convened three times during the day and evening only to take immediate recess and return to party caucuses.

This indicated majority Republicans were shy of the 20 votes needed to complete legislative action on the reapportionment resolution which would go before voters in next May's primary election.

Congressional redistricting, assigned to a joint conference committee Monday night after the two Houses found themselves poles apart on the prob-

County's Judges Would Get $3,000

Columbiana County Common Pleas Judges Joel H. Sharp, and Raymond S. Buzzard and Probate Judge Louis Tobin are in line for $3,000-a-year raises if the Ohio Senate approves a judicial salary bill passed by the House Tuesday night.

Their salaries would go from $15,520 to $18,520.

Under the same bill, Municipal Court Judge Samuel Chertoff would get $1,500 a year raises, and Council would be given the authority to boost the salary to a maximum of $18,000 a year.

Auto Hits Pole When Driver Misses Child

Midland Man, 22, Hospitalized After Klondyke Mishap

A 22-year-old Midland man was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with a possible skull fracture suffered Tuesday when his auto went out of control and struck a utility pole in Klondyke as he swerved to avoid striking a child.

Lonzo Williams, 328 Penn Ave., was hurt in the mishap on Harvey Ave. about 200 feet west of the Ohio - Pennsylvania state line, police reported.

His coupe wound up on the former right-of-way of the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co. which parallels the street, officers said.

Williams told hospital authorities his car went out of control when he swerved sharply to avoid striking an unidentified child in the roadway.

The Midland man was headed east in an auto owned by Will Williams, also of 328 Penn Ave., Midland, officers said. The mishap was timed at 9:58 a. m. Patrolman Orin C. Smith investigated.

An 82-year-old motorist was cited after a two-way collision Tuesday at Pennsylvania and Andrews Aves., police reported.

The crash involved a 1964 two-door sedan driven by Harold D. Taylor, 22, of 601 Northside Ave. and a 1963 four-door sedan operated by William Weidner, 1907 Ohio Ave., officers said.

Weidner was cited by Officer Smith on a charge of failure to

Taft Claims No Interest In GOP Post

Ohioan Calls For Reorganization Of Party Machinery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert Taft Jr. called today for reorganization of Republican party machinery but said he is not interested in becoming GOP national chairman.

Taft, defeated for the Senate last month when Ohio went overwhelmingly for President Johnson, brushed aside as "rumors" reports that some party members seeking to oust National Chairman Dean Burch may rally behind him as a possible replacement.

The Ohio congressman said in a telephone interview he has not concerned himself with the mat-

Goldwater, Eisenhower, Nixon

GOP Summit Meeting Scheduled In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater is ready to tell a Republican summit conference today he thinks the struggle over GOP leadership is tearing the beaten party apart.

That was the word from a source close to the defeated Republican presidential nominee as Goldwater prepared to talk politics with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The conference will be at 3 p.m. (EST) in a suite occupied by Eisenhower in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

"There is no agenda," said Republican National Chairman Dean Burch. He is here to attend at least part of the discussions that will bring together the three men who have carried the Republican colors in the last four presidential elections.

"This is a very informal conference," Burch said.

The embattled party chairman, hand-picked by Goldwater, said he does not expect the Arizona senator will specifically ask Eisenhower and Nixon to back Burch's continued service as GOP chairman.

The Republican National Committee meets in Chicago Jan. 22-23 to decide whether Burch will retain his post.

A source close to Goldwater said the Republican nominee who lost in a landslide to President Johnson, wanted to talk with Eisenhower and Nixon about the struggle now going on within the party.

The source said Goldwater would explain his views on the battle which pits his conservative followers against GOP moderates.

"He will explain that as far as he is concerned, this is tearing the party up," the source said.

Professor Named To Get Annual Bleininger Award

Dr. Henry H. Blau of Columbus, professor of glass technology at Ohio State University, was named Tuesday night by the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society to receive the 17th annual Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award "for distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics."

Dr. Blau's selection was announced at a dinner meeting of the organization at the George Washington Hotel in Washington, Pa. The Pittsburgh Section met jointly with the Pennsylvania Ceramic Society and wives of members of both groups were guests.

The gold medal and scroll symbolizing the Bleininger Award will be presented to Dr. Blau at a dinner meeting of the Pittsburgh Section in March.

He was selected by an award committee headed by W. H. Schaefer Jr. of the Crucible Steel Co.'s steel process research laboratory at Pittsburgh.

Dr. Blau's name appears as inventor or co-inventor on 31 patents for processes and equipment used in the glass industry. He also is the author of many technical papers.

In addition to his post at the university, he is vice president of the Federal Paper Board Co. at Bogota, N. J., and its subsidiary, the Federal Glass Co. of Columbus.

Dr. Blau, 67, has been a Fellow of ACS since 1931. He has headed many committees of the society and served at one time as chairman of the Pittsburgh Section.

He received a bachelor's degree in 1919 at Carnegie Institute of Technology, a master's degree in 1920 at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and his doctor of philosophy degree in 1935 at the University of Pittsburgh.

He has received several national awards for work in the glass industry and related fields.

The Bleininger Award was established in 1948 as a memorial to the late Dr. A. V. Bleininger, who was director of research for the Homer Laughlin China Co.

By tradition, the recipient's name is announced each year at the December meeting. The 1964 winner was Dr. Frederick

When the Republican governors and all others with something to say about the 1964 presidential election have had their say, there still will be something left unsaid. The Goldwater candidacy did not cause the GOP defeat.

The United States had changed presidents in November 1963.

The Republican party had only an outside chance of defeating President Kennedy if he had lived. When his tragic death moved Lyndon Baines Johnson into the presidency, the odds lengthened against even an outside chance.

Voters had no reason to switch presidents again within a year.

It was pointed out at the time that Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona had sustained a particularly telling blow in the Kennedy assassination because his political role had been shaped to oppose a Kennedy candidacy, not the candidacy of another public figure from the Southwest, a man essentially as conservative as he was.

Somehow, these things, freely discussed in the weeks following President Kennedy's death, were overlooked in the weeks preceding the Republican convention. Also overlooked was a theory, current in some political circles, that political strategy might let Sen. Goldwater run against President Johnson, in the thought this would eliminate him as a major influence in the Republican party.

Instead, all political attention became riveted on the quarrels inside the Republican party. More attention was given to issues between Sen. Goldwater and his critics than was given to issues between the senator and President Johnson. An illusion was created that Sen. Goldwater might win, not necessarily against President Johnson so much as against his critics.

After everybody has had his say about what happened, this fact will still loom larger than any other: No Republican candidate stood a good chance of beating President Johnson, and Barry Goldwater was such a controversial figure he stood the worst chance of anybody who might have tried.

He and his associates are not to blame for the GOP defeat, only for the lopsided margin of the popular vote.

LBJ Touch In Foreign Policy

Among those who follow election returns closely are the embassy staffs in Washington. They have reported to their governments the proportions and significance of President Johnson's November landslide.

This will have important bearing on the President's conduct of foreign policy. Unlike British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who is in office by an eyelash and can be winked out by a flutter of opinion, Mr. Johnson has a strong mandate for boldness.

The question is whether the LBJ touch in foreign policy will be as magic as it has been in domestic policy.

Beyond that, the question is whether the LBJ method of persuasion will be as applicable to foreign policy problems as to domestic problems, where President Johnson can apply the political holds he knows so well.

It will be a challenge.

On the face of it, foreign affairs must be thought of as his weakest suit. But behind the face of it, he may find foreign affairs to be the place where his talent has the widest range of opportunity.

The political holds he has learned how to use so adeptly may be just as effectual when used in this larger field of opportunity.

Certainly Mr. Johnson is going to be a change of personality for diplomats accustomed to chief executives like John F. Kennedy and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

As chief of state, he is going to be a change of pace for French President Charles de Gaulle, when they have their confrontation, and for all others to follow.

It is too soon to predict any triumphs for Texas-style foreign policy. But it is a good guess it will be different from anything seen before in U.S. diplomacy.

There Always Will Be A Way

If the unfinished business of a federal gun law comes up in the 89th Congress more than the purpose of regulation will have to be discussed.

Nothing could be worse than an unenforceable law on this subject. It might even stimulate the sale and possession of firearms.

Each and every proposal must be put through an acid test of practicality: Would it have kept the presidential assassin from buying, possessing, transporting and finally using the Italian military rifle that literally blew off John F. Kennedy's head at intermediate range?

No one wants to keep sportsmen from owning and using guns.

The only purpose of a gun law is to keep guns out of the hands of people who intend to use them for illegal purposes.

But how is that to be decided — the possible crime before the actual fact?

How can gun-smuggling and illicit purchasing be made impossible?

How can any legislator be sure a law would not be enforceable only against those who respect laws and useless against those who break the law at will?

The issue is not whether guns should be kept out of the hands of dangerous people. The issue is whether guns can be kept out of the hands of dangerous people.

As the Kennedy assassination recedes into history, it grows clearer that Lee Harvey Oswald, once had made up his mind to commit the crime, could not have been stopped by a federal gun law.

There always will be a way to get a gun.

Defense Driving For Survival

A running argument about the comparative safety of small and large autos when their drivers and passengers are involved in highway accidents is getting nowhere.

There really is nothing to argue about as far as the probable extent of damage and injury is concerned. Small cars cannot give away that much weight and, in most cases, speed without being more susceptible to damage in a crash.

But there is something to argue about on the probability of being involved in a crash. Drivers of small cars have deep respect for the inadequacy of their vehicles in collisions.

They are impressed with the importance of avoiding accidents. They never get into "chicken" contests with drivers of vehicles that outweigh and outpower them. They cheerfully drive around the block to avoid an accident. They live by survival tactics.

Thus, the only safety statistic that would mean anything would show small-car accidents relative to mileage and compare them with large-car accidents relative to mileage. Small-car drivers and passengers stand a poor chance in a tangle with a big car. For that very reason, it seems likely that small cars are involved in fewer accidents per units of 100,000 miles traveled.

Their drivers practice defensive driving for survival — the secret of all safe driving on public highways.

Three-Score And 10

By Truman Twill

Don't listen to me. Listen to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

People are living no longer than they used to live.

The only difference between now and yesterday is that babies now have a better chance to survive than they had when croup, cholera infantum, measles, scarlet fever and other diseases could carry them away in a few days.

Thanks to better medical care, other age groups up to 50 have added a few years to their life expectancy.

But after 50 the span narrows until it has all but disappeared by age 75. From then on, longevity is accidental—a free ride.

Only a handful of people have extra mileage built into them.

Nothing they do or don't do has any effect on their ability to live long after their contemporaries have died.

THE WRITER'S mother has just passed her 93rd birthday.

This is a matter of astonishment for her.

She points out that she has done nothing to deserve longevity. She has discovered nothing.

It just happens she was born with longevity. She claims no credit for having lived so long.

Despite such infirmities as failing eyesight and hearing, she never has been sick.

Indisposed, yes. Confined to bed sometimes, yes. But sick in the sense of being under intensive medical care, no.

She has her tonsils, adenoids, gall bladder and appendix.

HER MEMORY of the past is sharp. She recalls things that happened 75 years ago more clearly than things that happened last week.

But she does not live in the past. She lives very much in the present. Her political opinions have burrs on them. She quit going to Florida because she didn't like the way Floridians treat Negroes.

She fights city hall every day, as she has all her life.

At her age, she isn't saving herself for tomorrow. She lives one day at a time—to the hilt.

Only a few have longevity built into them.

For everybody else, the span of life is what it always has been—about three-score and 10.

The first non-stop trans-Atlantic jet airplane flight took place on Sept. 22, 1950, when Col. David C. Schilling of the U.S. Air Force flew 3,300 miles from England to Limestone, Maine, in 10 hours, one minute.

Meeting Of The Minds

Labor Prepares For Future Campaigns

By Victor Riesel

A confidential 16-page document placed on the desks of the nation's labor leaders by their national political strategists urges that the movement immediately launch a campaign to win power in some 600 city elections in November '65 and prevent the pro-labor majority in Congress from losing the coattail - less mid-term campaign in '66.

Victor Riesel

This secret report prepared by the AFL-CIO's Committee On Political Education (COPE) discloses that American labor's '64 presidential campaign network was the best political machine ever put into the field since the tiger was more synonymous with Tammany than with a gasoline tank.

Furthermore, the newly prepared confidential account states that it is not too early for labor and its allies to find candidates for drives to purge six conservatives from the U.S. Senate in 1966.

THESE MEN, Republicans all, are Karl Mundt, South Dakota; John Tower, Texas; Gordon Allott, Colorado; Len Jordan, Idaho; Jack Miller, Iowa and Milward Simpson, Wyoming.

As remarkable as the ambitious tone of the section called "The Job Ahead" is the dramatic analysis in this secret memorandum of the job done during the past national campaign. It reveals that COPE distributed more than 65 million pieces of literature from its national and regional headquarquarters. Of this total, some 10 million pieces were copies of the voting records of congressional friends and critics.

This deluge hit the country in addition to the millions of leaflets and newspapers distributed by the thousands of national and local unions.

THE REPORT reveals that far more than the concentrated industrial areas and big cities were hit by the labor campaigners as early as a year in advance.

There were various parallel drives. One was directed by Roy Reuther charged with registering and getting out the vote. He had a budget ranging close to a million dollars.

There was a Marginal (congressional) District Project run by COPE Deputy Director Joe Rourke. It went into 89 such election areas, including districts in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Washington, New Mexico.

A THIRD DRIVE was among the minorities.

"Negro registration increased an estimated 700,000 in 1964," the report states, "to a nationwide total of about six million. Important increases occurred in industrial states and in those Southern states where Negroes are permitted to register in numbers. Other minority groups, Puerto Ricans, Mexican Americans and Indians were registered in unprecedented numbers.

"The votes of these groups were important in the successful campaigns of Sen. Cannon of Nevada, freshman Senators Montoya of New Mexico, Kennedy of New York, Harris of Oklahoma, freshman Gov. Goddard of Arizona, Branigan of Indiana and Gov. Kerner of Illinois.

"Even more dramatic was Sen. Young's narrow victory in Ohio by about 15,300. The estimated Negro vote in Ohio was 400,000 and about 96.6 per cent went to Democratic candidates. . . . The large increase in Negro registrations in Texas (from 105,000 in 1960 to 260,000 in 1964) is given considerable credit for the comfortable margin (287,000) racked up by Sen. Yarborough."

AS A RESULT of the unity of labor, farm organizations and minority groups, COPE avers in its report, there were remarkable victories. It states that "two labor - backed senatorial candidates, Ross Bass (D-Tenn.) and Ralph Yarborough (D-Texas.) won fiercely fought primary battles in the spring and summer before going on to win in November.

Neither could have won without the benefit of COPE's intensive registration drive among the membership of the AFL-CIO and among minority groups."

The COPE campaigners hit hard in 89 congressional districts which received "special attention."

COPE CLAIMS success in 69 per cent of the districts, far out-reaching the results of similar campaigns by the Business Industry Political Action Committee (BIPAC) and the American Medical Political Action Committee (AMPAC). Only three of 14 doctors who were candidates won election and one of the three champions medicare.

As a result there are now 51 new congressmen who "are known" to be more pro-labor than their predecessors. In all, 237 of 354 labor endorsed candidates for the House; 25 of 31 candidates for the Senate and 14 of 22 candidates for governor won election.

With '64 as a base, COPE in its concluding sentences says that "the coalition of labor, farm organizations and minority group organizations which was begun in a systematic way in 1964, should be continued and its activities directed" into the next two elections.

Thoughtful Statements

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Sen. J. W. Fulbright has a habit of making statements which rub against the American grain, for a time, and he gets criticized for them.

Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, made another talk Tuesday at Dallas, this time about building bridges to the Communist world.

It was not popular for him during the 1961 Berlin crisis to say the West was not entirely blameless for Soviet pressure on the German City.

He said at the time: "We bear heavy responsibilities for the stupidities of this situation, which is to my shame, as it is to anyone in the West. Certainly it was not just the fault of the Russians."

He angered a number of people last March when he suggested, in effect, that President Johnson stop playing to the gallery in his handling of foreign affairs by yielding to the "malady of chronic and excessive caution."

He said then: "An effective foreign policy is one which concerns itself more with innovation abroad than with conciliation at home. It is sometimes necessary for leaders to do unpleasant and unpopular things."

How long will this country and communism have to accommodate themselves to the idea that neither is going to disappear and both will have to live side by side?

"As far into the future," Fulbright said Tuesday, "as we can see we shall be living in a world of diverse and often conflicting interests and ideologies."

"The building of bridges," he said, "means nothing more than the opening of normal contacts and communications across a chasm of misunderstanding."

This country has already done, and is doing, that although not on a feverish scale. So here again Fulbright was only stating the obvious but in a common sense way.

He said it is this country's "crusading tendency, so noble in intent, so potentially destructive in its consequences, that we must guard against in our relations with the Communist world."

Depression Storm Signals

By David Lawrence

Measures Of Restraint Are Advised

Warnings against a serious economic depression in the United States within the next 18 months may be unpalatable, but if they serve to emphasize some of the trends that are actually appearpearing in the economic situation in America today, preventive measures could still be employed in time. Public opinion has its own way of applying correctives.

David Lawrence

Since private credit is so widely expanded nowadays, it's of transcendent importance that high employment be maintained and that the workers themselves shall be able to make their installment payments.

Next, it is essential that prices shall not rise so as to discourage the demand for goods. For when demand drops off, production has to be curtailed, and many workers usually are laid off. This means fewer jobs would then be available for newcomers, too, in the labor market.

Prices cannot be kept stable if wage increases are extorted far beyond the capacity of business to absorb without increased income from sales.

Today, the whole wage-price structure is running into trouble. Management seemingly is helpless. It cannot afford costly strikes. It cannot depend on government action or law to restrain labor's demands.

THE ADMINISTRATION which has just been elected is in an embarrassing position because the labor unions supplied, directly and indirectly, one of the principal methods whereby the campaign was financed and the labor vote was organized. The work done to line up the labor vote for President Johnson was far more intensive than anything accomplished by the ally in either political party.

The labor drive not only swelled the Johnson-Humphrey electoral vote but had a vital part in electing a majority of the members in the House of Representatives and in bringing about the election of enough senators to assure control of that body.

When the crisis recently arose in the auto industry, the President did not intervene. The auto companies had to surrender so as to avoid costly strikes. Yet the settlement reached could be damaging to the American economy.

Other industries, including steel, now are threatened with a similar pattern of wage increases, though they are not in as good a position to absorb such raises as are the auto companies.

The central weakness in the whole situation is that the labor union leaders in different industries vie with one another to get wage increases at least of the same size as in another industry, though conditions may vary.

Also, inside the big unions such as steel, if the top officers fail to get a wage settlement such as labor won in the auto industry, they may be defeated in the next union election by candidates who promise more.

THIS ISN'T a new development. The late President Kennedy struggled with the dilemma in 1962 as his Council of Economic Advisers came up with a plan which avoided government control of wages or prices but did set forth points of "advice" within certain limits.

These were called "guideposts" or "guidelines." They provided a means of measuring productivity, and if it increased, for example, by a 3.2 percentage, the wage rises were to be correspondingly held to that figure. Prices might even be reduced as efficiency improved and unit costs were lowered.

The concept was widely hailed but in the auto settlements in recent months, the formula was torn to shreds.

Presdient Johnson last week in his speech to the Business Advisory Council returned to the theme as he said:

"I believe that through wage-price guideposts government can offer leadership on the kind of voluntary private wage and price policies that are consistent with achieving sustained prosperity, full employment and price stability."

But on the next day the head of the Steelworkers Union told a press conference that he didn't intend to be restricted by any "guideposts." He said the settlement would be "noninflationary," which means, of course, that no matter how high the wage costs go, the companies are supposed to hold or even reduce their prices. This is the sure road to a diminished volume of sales and an economic depression.

THERE ARE, moreover, plenty of storm signals in the international credit situation which are causing anxiety, and the betting seems to be that within a few months the British pound sterling will be devalued. What the effect may be on other currencies cannot be foreseen.

With such clouds on foreign horizons, it certainly is a time for realism inside the United States. The various segments of public opinion, including the workers themselves, need to be thoroughly informed on the true issues. A record year of profits doesn't mean every subsequent year will be as good or that wage scales based on good years can be maintained when volume of sales declines.

It doesn't take much to set off chain reactions in business. That's why the officers of America's labor unions as well as government officials need to begin thinking about measures of restraint if a big depression in the '60s is to be prevented.

U.S. Service Closed Down In East Java

JAKARTA, Indonesa (AP) — Indonesian officials closed down the activities of the U.S. Information Service today in Surabaja, capital of East Java, saying there was danger of more anti-American violence.

Officials in Surabaja told the U.S. consulate the closing was necessary "in order to maintain law and order," USIS Director Paul N. Neilson told a news conference in Jakarta.

A mob pillaged the USIS library in Surabaja Monday night, burning books, furniture, a mobile unit and a car. Last Friday, another mob sacked the U.S. cultural center and its library in Jakarta.

Both mobs protested U.S. intervention in the Congo to save whites held by the Congolese rebels and American support for Malaysia. Indonesia's President Sukarno has vowed to crush Malaysia.

U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones postponed a trip to Surabaja today to survey the damage after the Ministry of Police informed him at the airport that his presence in the East Java port might touch off new demonstrations.

Allan McLean, U.S. consul in Surabaja, reported two rooms of the library there were demolished and about 25 per cent of its 16,000 books were burned or torn up.

Neilson said the information service operated the library and two mobile units in the Surabaja area. He said the embassy was trying to obtain more information on the shutdown order.

The library in Jakarta also lost about a fourth of its 15,000 books but has reopened. The USIS library in Jogjakarta, in central Java, has been closed since demonstrators invaded it in August, protesting American support of Malaysia. The information service also operates a library in Medan, capital of North Sumatra, and a reading room in Makkassar, in South Celebes.

In a speech to a rally Tuesday night, President Sukarno charged that the U.S.-Belgian rescue action in the Congo was a pretext for restoring colonial domination there.

1 Killed, 2 Injured In 4-Car Accident

CINCINNATI (AP) — Eleven-year-old Vickie Bauer of suburban Reading was killed and two women injured in an accident involving four cars Tuesday night in Reading.

The victim was a passenger in a car driven by her mother, Mrs. Martha Bauer, 42. Police said a car driven by Aline Adcox, 41, St. Petersburg, Fla., crossed the centerline and struck the Bauer car. Two other cars crashed into the Bauer auto. Mrs. Bauer and the Adcox woman were injured, neither seriously, according to police.

Ashtabula's School Levy Loses 5th Time

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—A proposed 4.5-mill operating levy for Ashtabula city schools has gone down to its fifth straight defeat. The unofficial vote in a special election Tuesday was 4,464 for the levy and 5,736 against.

The $470,000 the levy would have brought in annually was to be earmarked for teacher pay raises and to meet increased school operating costs.

Meeting Of Local Moved To Annex

IBOP Local 86 announced today its educational meeting scheduled Tuesday night at 7:30 has been shifted from the former IBOP Building on W. 6th St. to the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

In announcing the change of location, Ed Howell, local president, said interest in the series of meetings is gaining momentum and information that should be of interest to all IBOP members is being discussed.

The main object of the meetings is to impress on IBOP members the importance of voting in the union's primary election on March 2 and the general election on May 4, Howell said.

E. L. Wheatley, international president, and members of the Executive Board, have been invited to attend. A question-and-answer session between board members and potters will follow.

Illinois Man Killed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Earl Ellis, 57, of LaGrange Park, Ill., was killed late Tuesday when his single engine Piper Cherokee airplane crashed on U. S. 24 six miles west of Waterville about 15 minutes after he had taken off from Bowling Green.

Officers Elected By Lisbon Group

Others named were Virgil Reynolds, vice president; John Laitsch, secretary; Everett Vernaccini, treasurer, and David Bahen, three-year trustee.

William Smit was named to the firemen's dependency fund.

The fire officers are Robert Badger, chief; Bahen, captain, and Kenneth Ketchum and Smit, lieutenants.

Fifteen attended. A Christmas party for children will be held Dec. 18. The next meeting will be Jan. 6.

U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi will be pointing for the Los Angeles Open. He won the event in 1959 but last January he missed the cut for the final 18-hole round.

In the West, an iridescent tinsel tree of peacock blue and emerald green was decorated with 12 fruits of the same color, each representing five years in the chapter's history.

Mrs. Ovie Cole and Mrs. Gladys Boyce were registrars. Mrs. Boyce and Mrs. Archibald were soloists. Members of the choir, of which Mrs. Denelda Coleman of Kensington is leader, wore pale blue robes with peacock bows.

Printed in the programs was a tribute to Mrs. Homer Bryan of Negley, deputy grand matron, who was among speakers, including Mrs. Edward Preston of Leesville, past grand matron and grand trustee; Mrs. Terry Ewing of Hartville, grand Electa, and Mrs. Laverne Mani of Homeworth, grand representative to Illinois. Mrs. Harry Jones of Canton, trustee of the Eastern Star Home, was also a guest.

Peacock colors were used in table decorations at the reception. Imprinted notepads and corded pencils were table favors. Garlands of greenery adorned each table, illuminated by iridescent sequined candles. An arrangement of blue and green flowers decorated the punch table where Mrs. Emmer Bradway, 223 E. 3rd St., sister-in-law of the worthy matron, poured. Her daughters, Kim and Kristine Bradway; the worthy matron's son, Robert Ramsey; Jay and Jean Cutler of Youngstown; Mrs. Carl Crabtree, 209 Ravine St., and Mrs. Carl Marietta of Hanoverton were aides.

Chamber Board Elects 3 To Fill Unexpired Terms

Three vacancies on the Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce were filled Tuesday afternoon at the board's December meeting.

Elected to unexpired terms were: John Pinney, vice president of the Harker Pottery Co.; Ralph A. Finley, secretary-treasurer of the Smith & Phillips Co. and immediate past president of the East Liverpool Merchants Association, and Donald McGillivray, vice president of the Potters Bank & Trust Co.

They will fill the vacancies that resulted from the recent death of Glenn B. Roberts and the resignations of Donald U. Honicky and Wendell H. Vodrey.

Names of the new trustees were proposed to the board by the Executive Committee.

The Chamber's constitution provides that when board vacancies occur between elections the posts will be filled by the board.

The action restores the board to its normal membership of 21. The next election of Chamber trustees and officers is not due until spring.

The board voted to commend the high school band for the favorable publicity it attracted for the community in an appearance in a Thanksgiving Day parade in Philadelphia.

The board also voted to send individual letters of commendation to members of Council who voted in favor of retaining the city income tax, citing the revenue measure's importance in continued full-scale municipal operations.

James Locke reported on recent activities of the merchants' association. George A. Shaw, president, reported on the program and activities of the Community Improvement Corp.

The board was advised that additional members will be named to the legislative affairs committee, which will be reorganized by the first of 1965 in preparation for contacts with Congress and the State Legislature on problems related to business affairs.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Jan. 12.

lem, likewise remained unresolved.

House members headed by Rep. F. K. Cassel, R-Wyandot, said Tuesday night the conference committee still had not met, except for a brief picture-taking session, "But we are ready any time they (Senate members) are."

It was apparent that the Senate wrangle over reapportionment figured in the delay in a meeting of the Senate - House committee.

House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, said a floor vote should come today on the administration's $290 million bond issue proposal. "This would just about clear up all the business we have pending at present," Cloud told the House.

The judicial pay raise bill passed as an emergency measure by a lopsided vote of 106-7 but not before a spirited debate over whether to accompany the boost with a mandatory retirement age of 70 for judges. Eventually, the provision was stricken.

Under the bill, which now goes to the Senate, the salary of the chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court would be boosted from $22,500 to $24,500. Associate Supreme Court judges would receive $24,000 compared to $22,000 at present.

Appellate judges' pay would be raised from $18,000 to $21,000. The state's contribution to the salaries of common pleas judges would be hiked from $7,000 to $9,000 a year with the remainder of their pay to be determined on the basis of population. Maximum pay for common pleas judges in Ohio would be $20,500.

Also included were county and municipal judges. County commissioners would be permitted to hike the pay of county judges up to $2,000 a year. Maximum pay for municipal judges would be raised from $15,000 to $18,000 annually.

Other bills passed by the House included a Senate-passed measure giving department head status to the chairman of the Ohio Youth Commission. Sponsors, led by Rep. David D. Albritton, R - Montgomery, asserted the law is needed to give the agency more administrative strength.

Another House - passed bill was designed to help with a particular problem involving Youngstown University. It allows the Board of Regents to accept land, construct buildings, and lease them to public colleges and universities.

Wetzel Asks County Shift

By W. S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS — All or part of Columbiana County may yet figure in plans for a revised 16th Congressional District.

A move to join all of Columbiana with Stark County as the new 16th was being pushed Tuesday night by Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana.

Wetzel, who earlier proposed splitting Columbiana between the 16th and 18th Districts, said Tuesday that would be his preference only if members of the House - Senate conference committee refused to move all of Columbiana into the 16th.

Sen. Theodore M. Gray, R-Piqua, a member of the committee, said the shape of the 16th District will depend entirely on the shape of the 14th, which must give up a large chunk of population to some adjoining district.

At last count, there were about a half - dozen plans, including Wetzel's, involving the 16th.

When the committee will come up with a solution to the impasse remained in doubt today. No formal meeting has been held and none has been scheduled. The four Republicans on the committee had breakfast together Tuesday but only discussed the House and Senate bills generally.

On the recommendation of Asst. Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, Acting Municipal Judge Paul Tobin today imposed a 30-day driver's license suspension on Weidner and ordered him to pay the costs. Weidner pleaded guilty.

The solicitor said Weidner's family said he was hit by an auto while on foot in East End a few weeks ago and has been nervous since. The solicitor advised the suspension to allow the motorist to recover from the the alleged nervous condition.

Taylor said he was driving east about 25 to 30 miles an hour when Weidner pulled from the curb, headed west, and made a left turn in front of the Taylor car. Weidner reported he looked to the rear, but failed to check traffic to his front and pulled into the path of Taylor's auto.

Timed at 10:44 a. m., the collision caused extensive damage to the front of Taylor's car and the right side of Weidner's vehicle, police said.

A district man was cited after his auto crashed into a utility pole at E. 3rd St. and Broadway Tuesday at 11:05 p. m., officers said.

Donald E. Efaw, 32, of R. D. 2 said the brakes on his 1955 sedan grabbed as he drove east on E. 3rd about 20 miles an hour, causing the car to swerve into the pole. There was extensive damage to the right front of the car, owned by James Efaw of Cleveland, police said. Patrolmen Leonard Richard and Paul Blevins investigated.

Efaw was cited on a charge of operating an auto with improper brakes.

Efaw's Municipal Court hearing is set Tuesday at 9 a. m.

Hayward Sullivan, 50, of Chester R. D. 1 escaped with a cut lip when his auto sheared off a utility pole about 7 a. m. today on Pennsylvania Ave. at 1st Ave., police reported. He was released after treatment at the hospital.

Sullivan told police he fell asleep while driving home from the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., where he had worked two consecutive shifts. There were no skid marks on the pavement, indicating the driver did not awake until the moment of impact, police said.

Two cars were damaged in a collision Tuesday at 3:45 p. m. on St. Clair Ave. at Lincoln Ave., officers said.

Donald R. Moore, 59, of Sunset Dr. said he halted his northbound 1963 car to pick up a hitch - hiker and it was hit from the rear by a 1962 station wagon driven by Mrs. Robert Bernstorf of Dairy Ln.

Mrs. Bernstorf told officers her auto "was not running right" as she started up the St. Clair Ave. grade, so she stepped down on the accelerator and looked at the floor of the auto momentarily. When she looked up again, Moore had halted in front of her and she was unable to stop in time, she said.

Mrs. Iris E. Bryan, 46, of the Old Fredericktown Rd. told police the left side of her 1964 four - door sedan was sideswiped by a hit-skip car Tuesday at 3:20 p. m. on Dresden Ave. Ext.

Mrs. Bryan said her northbound car was hit by the southbound auto, which did not stop. She gave police a license number and a description of the other auto. Police said the car is registered in the name of an E. 3rd St. man.

Woman Suffers Burns From Cooking Grease

A 36-year-old East End woman, burned by flames from cooking grease which ignited at her home about 1 a.m. today, was in "fair" condition at City Hospital.

Mrs. Ida Herron, 2128 Ohio Ave., suffered first, second and third degree burns of the left arm and hand and left foot and leg and first and second degree burns of the right hand and leg.

She was cooking french fried potatoes in deep fat when the container apparently tipped over and the grease ignited. Mrs. Herron ran outside with the flaming utensil to prevent the fire from spreading.

Woman, City Youth Injured In Skid Crash

A Wellsville area woman and a city youth were injured in one of two Freeway mishap Tuesday night.

Erma Torma, 42, of the Y. & Rd., Wellsville R.D., was treated at City Hospital for bruises of the left leg and a bruised forehead, and Leonard Harry Walker, 16, of 237 W. Church Ln. was treated for lacerations of the lip.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the woman was headed north when her 1960 sedan began to skid on the Westfield Rd. bridge and the auto went partially off the left side of the highway.

Walker, also headed north, was attempting to pass another vehicle when his 1958 sedan struck the left rear of the woman's stopped auto.

The crash occurred at 8:50 p. m.

Frank Eugene Hefner, 30, of Chester escaped injury when his semi - trailer rig collided with an auto on the Freeway just south of the intersection with Route 170 at 7:10 p. m.

The patrol said a car operated by John Roebuck, 25, of Dunbar, Pa., passed the rig at the intersection then had to cut back quickly due to the narrow approach lane to the main part of the Freeway, colliding with the truck.

Roebuck was charged with improper passing.

Quite Embarrassing

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Imagine Ed Carr's embarrassment when he started for work and discovered his car was out of gas. The service truck that made the run came from Carr's gas station.

Chamber Gives Warning Of Yule Season Swindles

The Chamber of Commerce today warned East Liverpool district residents to be on guard against fraudulent and misleading sales and promotional schemes that flourish during the Christmas rush.

Each year, thousands of hurried and unwary gift shoppers are victimized by the sharp operators who step up their activities during the holiday season, the Chamber warned.

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated, seasonal swindlers drain millions of dollars annually from consumers and businessmen throughout the nation. They capitalize on the fact people tend to be more generous and trusting and less likely to turn down a "charity" request in the holiday season, the BBB pointed out.

The Chamber said holiday shoppers can protect themselves by avoiding fly-by-night operators and by making Christmas purchases from dealers of known reliability. Based on past experience, the following schemes can be expected to make their appearance again this year:

Mail - order "bargain offers," quoting toys, watches, jewelry and other items allegedly at a fraction of the retail price. When the gift arrives, it may prove to be a cheap imitation of the item thought to have been ordered.

Mail and phone appeals for donations from unknown charitable organizations.

Attempts to collect on COD packages supposedly for your neighbor who, the deliverer says, "Is not at home." The packages may contain unordered merchandise or merely paper or cotton wadding.

Mail - order schemes in which you get a claim stub telling you that the shipper is holding a package which will be sent on return of the stub and a small amount. If you send the money, you get a cheap pen and pencil set or something similar which you never ordered.

Unordered merchandise appeals by unknown charitable organizations with requests for donations for the goods shipped.

Personal appeals by mail from self - described needy individuals seeking clothing, food, fuel and funds.

The Chamber said various perfume hoaxes were prevalent in past years and already have reappeared in some areas in one form or another. Prime targets are executives who buy gifts in quantity at Christmas.

The most widespread perfume scheme involves the sale of well-known brands of cologne and toilet water re-bottled in small, purse - size containers by companies having no connection with the original manufacturer. The purse - size containers generally are similar in size and appearance to those used to sell small quantities of genuine per-

The public is fooled into believing that it is buying expensive perfume at a bargain price. Actually cologne and toilet water are being sold at several times the regular retail price of the product packaged by the manufacturer.

The Chamber made these additional points:

Consumers who receive unordered merchandise through the mails generally are not obligated to return it or pay for it, unless it is used. They are required to surrender it if the shippers or their agents call for it within a "reasonable" time.

Consumers ordering Christmas gifts from mail order firms should generally allow three or four weeks for delivery. Sales may be final. Ascertain conditions of sale and obtain conditions in writing.

Examine purchases before Christmas. Don't expect transient vendors to be around after the holidays to answer complaints.

The Chamber also relayed a warning from the Pittsburgh BBB against a racket in replating of church silverware that has flourished particularly in Allegheny County.

The BBB said the scheme has been worked on at least two Pittsburgh churches. An itinerant visits a church rectory or parsonage and asks for work replating candlesticks or other altar decorations, quoting a ridiculously low price.

The BBB added: "The articles they agree to replate will be given a quick, shoddy job. When they are returned the price demanded will be substantial. In one Pittsburgh case, a price of $25 was quoted originally and when the articles were returned $1,500 was demanded."

The Pittsburgh agency urged churches to deal only with reputable workmen whose business performance can be checked.

Warns About Wiring

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A warning to be careful with electrical wiring and dry evergreen trees during the Christmas season has been issued by state fire marshal Fred Rice. Rice said proper safety precautions should be taken, including the availability of a fire extinguisher.

2 Lawrenceville Legionnaires Get Security Posts

Two members of Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163, Joseph W. Blankenship, 1428 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, and Donald Vandyke of Lawrenceville, have been named to the National Security Council of the American Legion.

They are among six West Virginia Legionnaires named to the security group by Donald E. Johnson, national commander, it was announced at a meeting of the post Monday night. Their terms will run to Jan. 10, 1966.

Charles Huffman, commander, presided. Plans were made for the annual Christmas party for Lawrenceville youngsters, re-scheduled for Dec. 23.

Named to prepare Christmas baskets for the needy were Huffman, Virgil Williams, Vandyke, Blankenship, Charles Clendenning, Charles Laughlin, and Gib Michaels. The committee is to meet tonight at 7 at the post home.

Samuel Krafft reported his committee has purchased $107 worth of hats, noisemakers and other items for the post New Year's Eve party.

Members approved plans to change the locks on the front door and to paint the interior of the grillroom.

Lunch was served. The next meeting will be held Dec. 21 at 8 p. m.

U.N. Flareup Expected On Congo Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Smoldering differences inside the African bloc at the United Nations were expected to flare up today when the Security Council launches debate on the Congo.

The first sparks may fly when the council gives the floor to Liberia and Nigeria. Both defended the United States and Belgium against charges by other African nations that the American-Belgian rescue mission to Stanleyville was a flagrant act of interference in the Congo.

A blowup was considered certain when Congo Premier Moise Tshombe arrives Saturday to tell the council of massacre and mutilation by the Congolese rebels and to accuse several African states of aiding the Communist-backed rebellion.

Court Denies Review In City Entry Charge

The State Supreme Court at Columbus today declined to review the conviction of John Ciesielski of Pittsburgh, found guilty in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon in a burglary at People's Drugstore in East Liverpool June 19, 1960.

Authorities charged Ciesielski and a companion entered a second floor office above the store when it was located at E. 5th and Market Sts., chopped a hole in the ceiling and then forced open the safe.

Police pursued the bandits' car along the River Rd. and one of the suspects hurled a suitcase full of loot into the path of the cruiser in an unsuccessful attempt to halt the chase. Ciesielski and a companion were nabbed when their car crashed shortly afterward.

Lisbon Board Gives Salary To Help Drive

LISBON — Board of Education members Tuesday night donated their 1964 pay to the Lisbon Teachers Association and Community Scholarship Foundation.

Board members, who receive $5 for each monthly meeting they attend, turned their checks over to W. J. Haifley, treasurer of the foundation fund and board member.

Mrs. Norma Nulf, third grade teacher at Lincoln School, reported on the school system's mathematics curriculum.

The board adopted a resolution accepted the system's tax rate of 26 mills — same as last year — set by the County Budget Commission; and approved payment of November bills totaling $36,751 including $33,501 for salaries and $3,249 for supplies and equipment.

Board members made plans to meet Sunday, Dec. 27, with the system's administrators at the summer home of Dr. Wade Bacon, board president. This is an annual affair for discussion of school matters.

The board authorized expenditure of $150 for membership in the Ohio School Boards Association next year, and $20 for each of the two music teachers for membership in the National Music Education Association. This will enable school music groups to enter musical competition.

Supt. Oliver H. Payne reported there have been no outside applications for the position of head football coach relinquished by Edwin (Bud) Bucher. Both Tom McCall and John Groves of the coaching staff have asked that they be considered for advancement.

The superintendent also reported:

Mrs. Ruth Jenkins of the Patient Services Division of the Muscular Dystrophy Association has obtained loan of a wheelchair for Michael Novak during the school year;

Lisbon schools are correct in making it compulsory for athletes to take physical education courses;

O. Dail Mason of Nationwide Insurance has requested that the board find some place else besides the Fairgrounds to keep its buses.

He said vandalism damage will make it necessary for the company to ask for a $50 deductible comprehensive coverage.

Tom Nicholson of Wellsville has completed repair of a fire well between the gym and high school building as well as other repairs to the roof.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 5 in the administration building.

Rail Crossing Mishap Fatal

SALEM — Funeral services are pending for Samuel Tadin, 38, Homeworth horse trainer who was killed early Tuesday when his car smashed into a southbound Erie Railroad freight train at a crossing near Canfield.

Mr. Tadin's 1952 sedan hit the fourth boxcar from the locomotive and his body was pinned in the accordioned auto, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Canfield reported. Mahoning County authorities said he suffered a crushed head and internal injuries.

The train was backing with 11 cars over Western Reserve Rd. two miles south of Canfield. John Barkey, 64, of Youngstown, the engineer, said he sounded the diesel's horn and crewmen tried to signal the driver with lights when they saw him approaching at a high rate of speed.

Gasoline Bids To Be Taken At Wellsville

Legislation to re - advertise for bids on a gasoline contract for city vehicles was adopted under suspension of rules at a special meeting of Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

The legislation authorizes Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare to obtain bids with the contract to be awarded by the Board of Control.

The new contract will extend through June 30. The city has voided the contract let last July to the Gitschier Service Station, 566 Main St., on the request of William Gitschier, the owner.

Gitschier said he was losing money as the wholesale price of gasoline has increased.

All members of Council were present. Council will meet in regular session next Tuesday night at 7:30.

Council held a closed caucus after the special meeting. A discussion was held on awarding a franchise for a television cable service in the community.

Council already has given two readings to legislation granting the franchise to Rego Industries of Hoboken, N. J. The Neptune Broadcasting Corp. of Steubenville has asked that it be granted a franchise.

Neptune has offered to pay the city a set fee each year for the franchise. Rego has never made such an offer.

Hearings Slated For 2 Motorists

To arrange the appearance of the arresting officer, Acting Municipal Judge Paul Tobin today set continuances until Wednesday at 9 a. m. for two Wellsville men cited by the State Highway Patrol after a collision Dec. 1 on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road."

Robert G. Grimm, 2035 Chester Ave., is accused of "decreasing speed without giving an appropriate signal to traffic in the rear" and Major William McDowell, 40, of 1305 Hillcrest faces a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

The patrol reported Grimm slowed at the site of an earlier crash and his car was hit from the rear by McDowell's. Grimm pleaded not guilty today, while McDowell pleaded guilty. As the two charges are related, the acting judge said he will dispose of both Wednesday.

Taft

ter of the chairmanship because he feels it is much more important for Republicans to set up a continuing organization.

"We should set up a continuing party organization that gives all power centers and organizational units a part in policy formation," he said. "We can't get along just organizing the party for a presidential campaign every four years."

In this connection, Taft backed a proposal unanimously approved by GOP governors in a Denver meeting last week for formation of a policy council on which they, the National Committee, congressional leaders and others would be represented.

Burch, who faces a vote of confidence test at a Jan. 22-23 National Committee meeting, has endorsed the governors' proposal to expand the party leadership. He denied, as they indirectly charged, that he had practiced as chairman any policy of "exclusion" of party progressives.

A scheduled New York meeting today between Sen. Barry Goldwater, the defeated presidential nominee, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower may produce some suggestions for party reorganization.

Taft, who did not subscribe to some of Goldwater's views in the campaign, said he thinks differences between Republicans have been exaggerated.

"I think there is general agreement on the basic philosophy that there is real danger in continuing to build up the federal government," he said. "What differences there are about that are a matter of degree and emphasis."

But Taft said that he thinks there is one issue on which party differences cannot be compromised.

"Our party must continue to maintain a strong position on civil rights," he said. "Those who don't like that are going to have to lump it."

Archeological discoveries indicate that the Norsemen brought women who attended to household tasks while their husbands sought — unsuccessfully —to carve out a permanent settlement in "Vinland" some 500 years before Columbus's voyages.

SANTA and the SINGING TURTLE

Prince Chad and the Singing Turtle, on their way to Santa Land, are joined by a broken-down Snowman. They are followed by a man witch sworn to keep the Prince from returning to his kingdom.

"This, as anyone can see, is the elevator."

CHAPTER FIVE

George led the Prince and the one-eyed Snowman into the hollowed-out oak tree. It was empty except for a rusty old washtub that hung from a dead limb by a rope.

"Is this Hoppy HopeandPray's railway?" asked the Prince in astonishment.

"This, as anyone can plainly see, is the elevator," retorted George. "Get in and it will take you to the railway."

Obediently. the Prince climbed into the tub. A moment later the ground seemed to give way and he swooshed through a thousand feet of darkness to land with a clank in a brightly lit railway station. There stood a little train, more like a trolley, huffing and puffing and clanging its bell.

THE PRINCE, his crown bent and askew, tumbled out of the tub. Immediately the elevator rose again to the surface and came swooshing back to dump the Snowman in several pieces beside the Prince on the station floor.

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed the Snowman, staggering around. "I've lost my one good eye!"

The Prince crawled about on his hands and knees until he found the hunk of black coal that was the poor fellow's remaining eye. He stuck it back in place and hastily repacked the arms that had been flung across the railway tracks. They were quite uneven in length, but serviceable just the same.

Hardly had the Snowman been put together than the elevator returned with George. It deposited him upside down on the railway platform, covered not only by his own shell but by the tub as well. The Snowman lifted the tube and the Prince righted the turtle.

The little red trolley-train began to puff heavily and clang its bell quite furiously, indicating clearly that it was ready to start.

The three travelers flung themselves aboard just as the wheels began to turn. They were so overcome by the whole experience they did not notice that the tub had landed again, this time bringing Womp, the man witch, who raced after the trolley and just managed to fasten himself to the tail gate as the train shot off into a pitch black tunnel.

"Now is where you hope and pray!" shouted George and he shut his eyes and pulled his head all the way into his shell.

THE PRINCE and the Snowman did the best they could. The Snowman could not close his one eye, but he raised his arms and wrapped them around his whole head.

The Prince thought it would be unprincely for him to hide his head, but he did shut his eyes tight and pulled his bent crown far down over his face.

There followed the wildest, loudest, scariest ride that man or beast ever dreamed of. The fiery little train leaped through the darkness. It bucked. It rocketed. It gyrated. It quivered. It soared. It left a flaming trail of sparks scattered in its wake. It hissed. It crackled. It gurgled. It backfired. It roared.

Suddenly it was all over and the train was standing in a snow-walled station. The Snowman dropped his arms. The Prince opened his eyes. George's head came out of his shell.

"Well," he said cheerfully. "It beats walking anyway!" And he led the way off the train.

Meanwhile, Womp, the man witch, pried loose his petrified fingers from the train's tail gate. His face was black with soot. His hair was singed down to the scalp. His teeth were chattering. His legs were like taffy candy.

"I'll get you, Prince Chad!" he swore furiously as he staggered dizzily away.

Students To Resume Sit-In At YM-YWCA

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (AP)—College student demonstrators planned to resume a sit-in today at the YM-YWCA, which they say excludes Negroes from membership.

Demonstration leader John Nettles, a Bluefield State Student said Winters told the students he would have no alternative but to arrest them if they persisted in blocking entrances.

"We're not afraid to go to jail," said Nettles. "We're going back Wednesday after classes."

Rotary Hears Girl Vocalists

The "Melodettes," 12 high school girls who express holiday greetings by blending their voices in pleasant harmony, entertained the Rotary Club at Tuesday's noon luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

Their attire was black skirts, sweaters and high heels, with white necklaces, but their sparkling renditions of familiar Yuletide carols and a few standards were dressed up in the merry colors of the season.

Directed by Robert Shankovich, high school concert choir director, the girls warmed up with "No Man Is an Island" and "Bye, Bye Blues," apparently the favorites in their repertoire.

A bouncy tune, "It's Christmas Once Again," followed, along with Victor Herbert's "Toyland," a tune with a lullaby beat which suddenly turns about half-way through into a clever ditty about a youngster's problems in arithmetic.

The also sang a carol. "Christmas Eve," and concluded with their own rendition of "Silver Bells."

Miss Cathy Stover was pianist and the singers were Lois Berman, Jane Boram, Sandy Hancock, Kathy Robbins, Sherry Johnson, Paula Whealdon, Sherry Russell, Linda Connell, Joan Chadwick, Mary Jane Summer, Brenda McCoy and Alice Rockenhauser.

Maurice Rapport was program chairman and the singers and director were dinner guests. Alvin T. Babb, president, presided. The room was decorated with a lighted Yule tree and other holiday items.

42 Attend Christmas Party Given By Member Of Quota

Members of the Quota Club were feted with a Christmas dinner party by Miss Gladys DeBolt, past district governor, Tuesday night at her home on W. 4th St.

Festive holiday decorations, including a Christmas tree, were used throughout the home. Recorded background music was featured.

Places were arranged for 42 members and guests, Mrs. Marjorie Emby of Winnipeg, Canada, Mrs. Fred Gibbs and Mrs. L. B. Lemon.

Officers were seated in the diningroom where the table featured a silver and blue theme with the use of a centerpiece and Quota doll. The individual tables featured miniature poinsettia centerpieces. Favors were poinsettia corsages and cosmetics samples.

The group sang birthday anniversary greetings for Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, charter president, who was presented with a floral arrangement in a wicker basket.

Mrs. Marie Hays, president, presided. Mrs. Ola Weaver, treasurer, received contributions to the Kent State scholarship Fund in lieu of a gift exchange.

Plans were discussed for the session Jan. 26 at the home of Dr. Edith Gilmore of Manor Ln. when Miss Mildred McGregor will be moderator for a program on the review of the by-laws.

The next luncheon meeting will be held Jan. 12 at the Travelers Hotel.

Industrial Waste Control Planned

WEIRTON — An $800,000 project aimed at improving the industrial waste elimination program at Weirton Steel Co. was announced Tuesday by company officials, along with plans for construction of a $120,000 central storeroom.

C. G. Tournay, president, said an acid disposal facility to extract waste acid from continuous pickling lines in the strip steel department is schedule for completion by April.

The new unit will eliminate the present practice of dumping the spent acid into the Ohio River by way of Harmon Creek.

"While the facility represents an expenditure from which the company realizes no return," Tournay said, "we have been moving ahead in our program of co-operation with ORSANCO to help free the Ohio River of industrial waste, and this is another significant step for us." Operating costs of the facility will be $1,000 a day.

The new storeroom will be erected adjacent to the half-million dollar warehouse just recently completed.

The Yankees have two rookie catchers on their 1965 roster. They are Jake Gibbs, who hit .219 at Richmond, and Billy Madden, who hit .283 at Columbus, Ga.

Wellsville Legion Commended For Member Signup

A special certificate of appreciation and a letter of commendation has been received by Wellsville American Legion Post 70 from the Ohio Legion for having reached its 100 per cent membership quota.

The post reached the goal on Veterans Day. Sam Maylone, commander, has been presented a special patch to wear on his Legion cap, designating him as commander of a 100 per cent post.

The citations were from Vernon Allen, department commander.

The auxiliary held its annual Christmas party Tuesday night at the post home. Members of the post were guests. A gift exchange was held.

The post held a business meeting Monday night. Jerome Gitschier reported on the dance held Saturday night, the last until New Year's Eve. Reservations for this event are due by Tuesday. Guests will be permitted to make reservations after the deadline, if any are available.

The seven groups planning a community Christmas party for children will meet tonight at the Knights of Columbus home. The Legion committee includes Harry Excell, Harry Crawford and Mel Gitschier.

4-H News

Any Columbiana County youth interested in conservation and tree production may obtain 200 trees without any cost. Youngsters desiring trees should contact their local community 4-H adviser to obtain application forms, according to Bob Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work.

Trees available include red and white pine, Norway spruce, white ash, black locust and white oak.

Many young people in the county have planted seedlings in the past years and last year over 3,000 trees were planted in the county by 4-H members.

The program is conducted in co-operation with the State Department of Natural Resources, Ohio Division of Forestry Information may be obtained by writing the Co-operative Extension Service office, at 113 S. Market St., Lisbon, or by calling 424-7291. Applications must be in the extension office by Dec. 31, Lewis said.

Roll call response was parts of a horse at a meeting of the Flying Hooves 4-H Club Monday night with Mrs. Ronald Flowers of Pughtown. Miss Ann Hobbs, assistant leader, was in charge.

Misses Janice Hall and Terry Arehart spoke on the weekend camp at Oglebay Park in Wheeling, and Bill Oyster spoke on "How to Tell a Horse's Age."

Lunch was served by Misses Anne Higginbotham and Pam Baker. The next meeting will be announced.

A report on an Appalachian conference Nov. 16-18 at Jacksons Mill was presented by the Rev. C. Donald Vogel at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at City Hall auditorium.

Rev. Vogel, president, explained the role of the church in combating poverty in Appalachia. Leaders from many denominations in states that make up Appalachia attended, he said.

Seventeen members and four guests attended. The guests were Tom Ward and Jess Mayles of the Oak Glen Key Club, Oliver Johnson of Weirton, lieutenant governor of the Kiwanis 1st Division, and Dr. Harvey Schondelmayer.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday with Sidney C. Porter Jr. of the Globe Brick Co. speaker.

2 Cumberland Youths Cited In Church Theft

NEW CUMBERLAND — Police Chief William Webster reported he cited two boys, 13 and 14 years, Tuesday afternoon in the theft of $40 from the office of the Free Methodist Church over the weekend.

The youngsters were turned over to Hancock County Probation Officer John Grossi.

Webster said he has asked the state fire marshal's office to probe a fire which destroyed the 1964 sedan of Sam Minesinger while it was parked at the rear of a local restaurant early Saturday morning.

Minesinger is manager of the New Cumberland Sanitation Co. Chief Webster said he suspects juveniles were involved.

2 Reported Injured In Route 7 Mishaps

At least two were injured in two traffic mishaps on Route 7 between Rogers and Brookside this morning, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Officers still were at the scene of the second accident two miles south of Rogers and details were lacking. An ambulance was summoned.

In the first collision at 8:05 near the Clarkson Rd., two cars were involved, officers said. Mrs. Rosalee Bremer of Follansbee was admitted to City Hospital with injuries suffered in the second mishap. A man injured in the crash was to be treated and released.

Credit for decorating the first Christmas tree in the United States generally is given to a group of Hessian soldiers. It is believed that the Hessians, hired by King George III to fight the American colonists, decorated a tree at Christmastime, in keeping with Germanic traditions.

175 Attend Installation Held For Lisbon Chapter Of OES

Approximately 175 attended the annual installation of officers of Iva Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Monday evening at the Masonic Temple in Lisbon.

Mrs. Eugene Wise was installed as worthy matron and Joseph Dornon as worthy patron, succeeding Mr. and Mrs. Glen Conn, retiring worthy patron and matron.

Leon Ward of Kent, brother of Mrs. Wise, who is past patron of Olive Chapter at Kent, was the installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Dornon and Mrs. Walter Lipp, marshals; Ray Beers, chaplain; Mrs. Leo Ward, conductress; Mrs. Donald Smith, organist. Mrs. Ray Beers, warder; G. V. Weinstock sentinel, and Glenn Conn inviting marshal.

Other Officers Seated

Other officers for 1965 installed were Mrs. Jean Hanna, associate matron; Walter Lipp, associate patron; Mrs. Walter Cope, secretary; Mrs. Gilbert Marshall, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Davies, conductress; Mrs. Kenneth Mugridge, associate conductress.

Mrs. Perry Arter, chaplain; Leland Adams, marshal; Mrs. Dale Young, organist; Mrs. Robert Fife, Adah; Mrs. George Serago, Ruth; Mrs. William Spooner, Esther; Mrs. Robert Gardner, Martha; Miss Helene Prudner, Electa; Mrs. Bruce Keslar, warder; George Riggle, sentinel, and Mrs. Charles Webber and Mrs. Paul Mollenkopf, pages.

Guests presented were Mrs. Terry Ewing of Canton, grand Electa, and Mrs. Homer Bryan of Anna Eckley Chapter of Negley, District 13 deputy grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Ohio.

Roy Ward of Hawaii, another brother of Mrs. Wise, sent her an orchid corsage in honor of her installation, and the arrangement of spider mums, gold pompons and gold foliage, placed before the presiding pedestal, flanked by two large gold candles, was from Mr. and Mrs. Peter Chestnut Jr. of Germany, niece and nephew of Mrs. Wise.

Window Is Background

The Christmas theme decorations of the diningroom, done by Mrs. Elbert Burson, included a Nativity scene of Italian import figurines. White and red net overlay covered the buffet table, centered by French cherubs holding an arrangement of poinsettias and tall, green candles.

Mrs. Arthur Tritten and Mrs. John Halverstadt were co-chairmen of the lunch committee.

Fifty-six members and two guests attended the annual Christmas dinner party of the auxiliary of American Legion Post 275 Monday evening at the post home.

The dinner was prepared and served by the officers and committee chairmen, assisted by the Legion-sponsored Camp Fire Girls Troop, Wa-So-Ki, whose leaders are Mrs. Donald Loch and Mrs. Richard Bowling.

Gold Star Mothers

Mrs. Jack Stockman, president, introduced Mrs. Anna Reuff and Mrs. Rhoda Tucker, Gold Star Mothers of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Albert Webber, newly - elected president of the Past Presidents Parley.

"Gifts for Yanks," wrapped in red lame and tied with green ribbon and hung on a white Christmas tree, totaling $26.20, were arranged by Mrs. Wayne Calhoun, foreign relations chairman.

Mrs. Seth Phelps, Americanism chairman, led the pledge of allegiance, and group singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" to open the program.

"A Story as told in the Scripture" and a Christmas reading, before a Nativity scene, comprised the worship service given by Mrs. Richard Kuhns, chaplain.

R. Dale Miller of Lisbon, guest speaker, discussed "Our American Heritage," pointing out the negligence and disregard by many for the American flag, and the pledge of allegiance, repeated without thought or meaning. Mrs. Miller also was a guest.

Carols Are Sung

Christmas carols and group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Johnson, pianist, concluded the program.

A large decorated Christmas tree was the holiday setting for the affair. An arrangement of red and white poinsettias centered the speakers table, with decorations of pine, varicolored pine cones and lighted red tapers in white milk glass.

The Lisbon Lionettes Christmas dinner party was held Monday evening at the Lantern Room in East Liverpool.

A holiday theme of red and white poinsettias, silver leaves and white candles decorated the table with miniature gold boots as placecards. White baskets topped with small Christmas trees were the favors made by Mrs. Mary Clement.

Game Prizes Given

Prizes for games were awarded Mrs. Donald Poole, Mrs. Clement, Mrs. Melvin Brown, Mrs. Robert Ford, Mrs. Paul Stone, Mrs. Delores Krause, Mrs. Francis Galbreath and Mrs. George Zeigler.

Mrs. Robert Ford, president, presented each member with a gift.

Later, the group met at the home of Mrs. Poole of East Liverpool to rehearse the Christmas program to be presented for residents of Columbiana County Home Sunday.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 4 at the home of Mrs. Stone of East Liverpool.

Little Extra Found In Pay Envelopes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — City employes found a little something extra in their pay envelopes this week.

It was a letter from Mayor James H. J. Tate, extending Christmas greetings.

The mayor also noted that "so-called office parties" are prohibited in municipal buildings.

"It should be possible for all of us to have a full measure of enjoyment in the approaching holidays without relaxing our proper decorum in public buildings," the letter said.

Out Of The Air

Laughs Bring Tears To One TV Man

It seems that Buzz Kulik has about lost his lonely battle to keep a laugh track off his "Kentucky Jones" series.

Hal Humphrey

As executive producer of "Jones," he bucked the tide and refused to succumb to those horrendous mechanical laughs which swamp so many filmed comedy series. Instead of cheering him on, his colleagues accused him of being a snob. Now they are giving him the I-told-you-so look, because Kulik has had to give in. He hopes it's only temporarily, however.

NO VIEWERS complained about missing the injected laughter when the series premiered last September, but after the first Nielsen ratings came in and "Jones" wasn't classed as a big fat hit, the network and sponsor representatives got nervous.

Only five non-laugh - track "Jones" episodes had been on the air (the election campaign pre-empted the series for two weeks) when Kulik decided he must bow to the consensus and insert a laugh track on a trial basis.

For the Nov. 14 "Jones," Kulik called in Charley Douglas and his "laugh console" — a diabolical gadget about the size of an accordion, which Charley invented himself. As the film is run off in a projection room, Charley rips off a medley of laughs on his keyboard which is picked up on the sound track.

IN A PLAY on Broadway last season ("Nobody Loves an Albatross") a TV producer submitted his script to a guy who owned a laugh-making machine, but the machine was a snob. When the script was read to it, the machine turned it down.

"Jones" unfortunately wasn't turned down by Charley Douglas' console. In fact, Kulik has two of his own lieutenants sitting alongside Charley to make sure the latter doesn't go overboard with the laughs.

"In one recent episode," reports Kulik, "I let one of the three reels go by without a single laugh. I refuse to submit to that keep - it - rolling technique regardless of whether or not there are funny lines of dialogue."

DURING the last four weeks in which "Jones" has had the laughs sprinkled through it, Kulik says there's been no apparent change in the show's rating. "The funny thing is," he adds, "the only viewer mail we've had since the changeover is from those objecting to our adding a laugh track."

Maybe there were viewers who missed the laugh track in "Jones" originally, but they wouldn't really know what it was they missed. Like Pavlov's dog, their audio reflexes have been conditioned over the years to expect laughter. When they don't hear it they probably are confused, but are not sure why.

Now that laugh tracks have been part of the TV viewer's diet for nearly 15 years, the proponents of this type of automation may have proved their point only by constant brainwashing.

"IT'S SICK, really, the whole thing is sick, and unless somebody can show me that a laugh track is doing anything for our series I'm going to knock it out again in another two or three shows," Kulik says.

This is gallant talk from a producer whose integrity hasn't been corrosively destroyed by the constant pressure of insecure and dollar-minded executives.

If he can remove the laugh track again and "Jones" survives the vagaries of the Nielson rating charts, then Kulik will deserve one of the TV Academy's new achievement Emmys.

The odds against his success, however, are enormous, and the last laugh in this drama probably will belong to Charley Douglas and his automated laugh machine.

President Gets Sympathy Notes On Death Of Puppy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Animal lovers from 7 to 70 have written to President Johnson and his family by the hundreds to extend sympathy on the death of the White House beagle puppy named Her.

About 400 letters have come in since Her died almost two weeks ago. Included were about 300 offers of dogs or other animals — even a calf.

Her and Him, brother and sister, belonged to Luci, the 17-year-old daughter of the President. Johnson showed delight in walking them around the White House lawn, and they received widespread publicity when he held them up by their ears.

Her swallowed a stone the day after Thanksgiving and died.

"We have a beagle, too, so we tied a black string around our beagle's collar and will keep it on for 30 days to show mourning," 8-year-old Dean Long in McHenry, Ill., wrote the White House.

In the careful hand of a child, on lined paper, Joanne Long of Markesan, Wis., wrote that her family had named two Angus calves after the Johnson beagles.

"I'll send you our calf named Her to you if you like. But you may not want her on the whitehouse (sic) lawn," Joanne wrote.

Laurie Kay Meacham of Seattle, Wash., wrote that she had eight hamsters and would like to send Luci one. Margaret Delaney, 7, of Oak Park, Ill., wrote that she had renamed her beagle Her so "you can come to see her and I will come to see you."

The White House has declined all offers of pets, following a policy set soon after Johnson became President.

Tuesday after again explaining the policy, it returned a female beagle puppy sent by E. D. Hollstein of Rushville, Neb. It sent Hollstein a picture of the President and the two beagles, autographed "from one dog lover to another."

About half the sympathy letters have come to Luci, the rest to Johnson or to him and the family.

American autograph collectors generally are willing to pay more for George Washington's handwriting than that of any other President.

School Dropouts' Training Discussed For Legion Post 4

A vocational training program for high school dropouts was explained to members of American Legion Post 4 Monday night by Charles B. Boso, commander and manager of the Ohio State Employment Service office.

He reported on a meeting held last week in Youngstown for 400 high school dropouts, including 11 East Liverpool boys.

The program furnishes a complete high school education for early dropouts while older dropouts are taught specific skills.

Nine were graduated last week and received immediate employment, the Legionnaires were told.

The applicants are screened through the OSES and received $5 per day, including $3 for school expenses and $2 for themselves, Boso said.

Dropouts in this area interested in the Youngstown Vocational School may contact Boso.

The post offered its rooms in the Siff Building for use in the March of Dimes campaign.

Issac Jones, chairman of the committee arranging the 46th anniversary observance in May, reported on preliminary plans.

Purle Smith, chairman of the Gifts for Yanks program, reported on progress of the annual campaign to provide gifts for hospitalized veterans. He also discussed a trip to the Ozark Mountains.

Lunch was served by a committee headed by Emmett Blake.

Decisions On Divorces Slated For Showdown

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Beginning next Jan. 1, fast decisions in divorce cases here will be a thing of the past. Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer said Tuesday that all cases involving minor children will have to take six months in processing.

For the last eight years, Ammer has been readily willing to grant divorces with a mere six-week waiting period—providing all other legal technicalities were met. The judge said he is reinstituting the half-year ruling "due to an alarming increase" in divorces being filed here.

Marxist Fails In Assembly Control

Anti-Red Coalition Rule Seen For British Guiana

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) — An anti-Communist coalition government appears in prospect for this racially divided British colony on the northeast coast of South America.

With returns nearly complete from Monday's national election, Marxist Premier Cheddi Jagan had the most votes, but he failed to win the majority necessary to retain control of the National Assembly.

Returns representing 91 per cent of the vote gave Jagan's People's Progressive party 103,222 votes, opposition leader Forbes Burnham's People's National Congress 87,448, and industrialist Peter Daguiar's United Force 20,846.

On this basis, Jagan's party will get 24 seats, Burnham's 22, and Daguiar's 6 or 7. The opposition parties thus could outvote Jagan's forces.

Gov. Sir Richard Luyt is expected to call on Burnham, a pro-Western Socialist, to form a coalition government from his party and the United Force.

Burnham, 41, a massively built Negro lawyer, has his chief strength among the Negro population. Jagan's strength is among the colony's East Indians, who outnumber the Negroes 2 to 1. Terrorism and clashes between the two races during the past year have taken 167 lives and caused $1.3 million in property loss.

Jagan's failure to retain the legislative majority he won in 1961 resulted from a new system of proportional representation devised by the British to drive him from office. With the assembly's seats allocated according to the total vote won by each party, he needed more than half the total vote to get a majority of the 53 assembly seats.

American officials feared that Jagan, a Castro admirer, would turn British Guiana into another Cuba once it gained independence.

Britain has postponed any decision on independence, and the past year's upsurge of racial strife makes the prospect for an end to British rule uncertain.

California U. Plan Adopted In Hopes Of Student Peace

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California faculty's Academic Senate has adopted a resolution it hopes will bring peace in the prolonged student-administration battle over political activities.

Leaders of the Free Speech Movement — the group which staged four massive sit-in demonstrations, one resulting in 814 arrests — proclaimed victory immediately after the vote Tuesday night.

They called off their strike until Dec. 18, when the university's Board of Regents meet in Los Angeles to consider the Academic Senate's five-point proposal. Regents must accept the resolution before it is effective.

Rebel students Tuesday night celebrated the Senate's vote and the 22nd birthday of Mario Savio, leader of the dissident group.

University President Clark Kerr, a member of the Board of Regents and one of the main targets of the movement's attack, declined immediate comment on the 1,200-member faculty group's resolution, which went further in meeting student demands than a proposal endorsed by the administration on Monday.

Savio, Manhattan-born philosophy student, said free speech members now would concentrate on trying to get charges against those arrested at the Dec. 2-3 demonstration dropped.

Savio termed the Senate's action "magnificent."

A crowd of about 2,000 students, waiting outside Wheeler Hall, erupted with wild screaming when the Senate's vote was announced.

Child's Note Says: 'I Snook Into Game'

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Officials at Cheyenne East High School received a letter Tuesday. It contained a quarter and a note written in crayon, obviously by a small child.

It read: "I snook into the East-Sidney (basketball) game Saturday night."

Defense Opens In City Youth's Burglary Trial

A Common Pleas Court Jury at Lisbon heard defense witnesses today in the trial of Joe Lewis Murray, 17, of East Liverpool, charged with breaking into a Mulberry St. home at night.

The state's key witness Tuesday was Arnold Fetter, director of the Fingerprint Division of the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London.

He said a fingerprint taken from a piece of glass in the back door at the burglary scene matched a print East Liverpool police took of young Murray at the police station.

The defendant has an alibi as his defense. Witnesses testify he was at home at 3:30 a. m. last July 1 when someone broke into the residence of Mrs. Bessie Walker while she and her daughter, Mary Ellen, 21, a nurse, were sleeping.

The intruder escaped unseen when the women heard a noise and called to each other.

Testimony developed that the defendant washed walls in the Walker home several weeks before. Police questioned him after learning he was the only stranger who had been in the house recently.

Young Murray is being tried as an adult, the case having been referred to the Grand Jury by Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin.

This is the second trial of the charge. Another jury could not reach a verdict and was dismissed Nov. 27 by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Howie Pollet can live at home when the Houston Colt .45s play in their new domed stadium next season. The team's new pitching coach lives in Houston.

The women voted to purchase eight pairs of boots for the firemen at the cost of $18.75 each.

A Christmas supper will be held Monday night at the Louise's Restaurant in Wellsville. Mrs. Janet Taggart is president.

Lunch was served eight by Mrs. Fanny Grodhaus and Mrs. Hazel Grodhaus.

Oak Glen Five Launches Season On Winning Note, 58-39

The Review Sports

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1964 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 30

Leopards Coast To Third, 96-42

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Finding themselves behind in the early minutes the Midland Leopards exploded in the first quarter and went on to their best offensive show so far in a 96-42 rout of Stowe.

About 900 fans watched the Leopards roll to their 50th straight victory on their home court and third in a row of the season.

Coach Hank Kuzma's team could have named their own score last night in trouncing Stowe, which captured the Section 9 title last year.

MIDLAND'S regulars played only about one half of the contest and eleven different players shared in the scoring.

The Leopards, who shot a torrid 50 per cent of the first half (224 of 48) wound up with a 48 per cent mark for the game. Stowe which jumped out to an early lead fell off the pace and only showed 23 per cent for the game connecting on 13 of 56.

Dough Romonovich scored the first six points for Stowe in the first minute of play and Midland was behind for the first time this season, 6-2.

A THREE - POINT play by Ron Brown midway through the first period put Midland in front 11-9 and the blitz was on as the Leopards raced out to a 29-15 first quarter lead then rested at halftime on a 57-24 bulge.

The big three of Sim Hill, Norm VanLier and Brown combined for 50 points with Hill garnering 19, VanLier 18 and Brown 13.

Hill was consistent from the pivot making 8 of 11 goals in the first half. VanLier was enjoying a good shooting night out front and Brown along with Hill were demons on the backboards.

Romonovich wound up with 11 points to pace Stowe which entered the game with a 1-0 record.

Midland's reserve team rang up its third straight victory 53-46.

Unitas, Brown Almost Unanimous

Green Bay, Colts Place 5 Gridders On All-NFL Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore and Green Bay each placed five men on the annual All-National Football League team selected today for The Associated Press.

The selections were made by a 42-man committee of three from each of the 14 league cities.

Quarterback Johnny Unitas of the Colts and fullback Jim Brown of Cleveland were near unanimous choices for the offensive team.

Johnny Morris, the Chicago Bears' record-breaking pass catcher, was an overwhleming choice for flanker back. Lenny Moore, Baltimore's big touchdown punch, scored decisively as the running back.

Frank Clarke of Dallas took over the split end job, won by the ailing Del Shofner of the New York Giants in the previous three years. Mike Ditka, the Bears' powerful tight end, was one of seven repeaters.

Dick Schafrath of Cleveland and Forrest Gregg of Green Bay again were the offensive tackles, although Gregg moved to guard in mid-season when Vince Lombardi shuffled his Packer line.

Jim Parker of Baltimore, a hardy perennial, was an all-star guard again, but Ken Gray of the St. Louis Cardinals took over the other guard job, held for two years by Green Bay's Jerry Kramer, who recently underwent surgery.

Mick Tingelhoff, signed by the Minnesota Vikings as a free agent in 1962, took over the first-string center job, beating out Jim Ringo of Philadelphia, the incumbent, Bob DeMarco of St. Louis and Mike Pyle of the Bears.

Green Bay put four men on the defensive unit, including Willie Davis at end, Henry Jordan at tackle, Ray Nitschke at middle linebacker and Willie Wood at safety. Gino Marchetti, veteran Baltimore end who came out of retirement just before the season started, and Bob Boyd, a corner back, were the Colts' contribution to the defensive team.

Bob Lilly, Dallas giant who is regarded by many as the best lineman in the NFL, made the club at defensive tackle.

Joe Fortunato, the consistent Chicago Bears left linebacker, and Maxie Baughan, who had a fine year for the Philadelphia Eagles, were the corner linebackers.

The only rookie to make the first team was Paul Krause, Washington's fine safety from Iowa whose 12 interceptions lead the league. Pat Fischer, at 5-foot-9 the smallest man to play regularly, won the other corner back job on his great season as a pass interceptor and defender for the Cardinals.

Irish Cagers Win Third Of Season

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just as they did on the gridiron this year under new coach Ara Parseghian, the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame are on the comeback trail in college basketball under new coach Johnny Dee.

Dee's boys made it three straight victories against no defeats by downing Michigan State 100-93 Tuesday night. The Spartans, down by 11 points at halftime, rallied to lead at 65-64, but the Irish were equal to the occasion.

They tied the score at 72-72 then went ahead for good on two free throws by Walt Sahm. Don Reed led the Irish with 30 points on 12 field goals and six free throws.

All three of Notre Dame's victories have come at home. After another home game Thursday against Detroit the acid test will come for the Irish. They will play five straight road games starting Saturday at Evansville.

Four teams in this week's Top Ten won Tuesday night and kept their records clean. Third-ranked Vanderbilt beat Western Kentucky 94-79; San Francisco, No. 5, whipped San Francisco State 93-72; Minnesota, No. 6, downed Marquette 78-59, and St. John's of New York, No. 10, edged Holy Cross 77-74.

The Commodores, Dons and Gophers won on their home courts while the St. John's Redmen survived their first road test. Holy Cross put on a spectacular rally on John Wendelken's shooting in the second half after trailing by 20 points at 69-49.

Three free throws by Jerry Houston in the last 36 seconds provided the winning margin after the Crusaders had pulled to within 74-72. Houston then made the first of his three foul shots and iced the victory with his last two after Tom Greely's basket put Holy Cross within one point at 75-74. Wendelken finished high for the game with 27 points, 19 in the second half.

Ollie Johnson led San Francisco with 21 points, Clyde Lee's 28 points sparked Vanderbilt while Mel Northway and Archie Clark each threw in 16 for the Minnesota as the Gophers won their fourth straight.

Westgaters Nip Big Red In 56-54 Tilt

Westgate hung on to a slim margin to edge Steubenville Big Red, 56-54, Tuesday at the Westgate gym for its third victory in a row.

Leading 20-17 at halftime, Westgate went in front 40-33 at the end of three periods then staved off a last period bid by the visitors.

Earl Diddle flipped in 19 points while Mike McVay added 13 to pace the Wildcats.

Stanton's Spires Named To First Team Berth On Class A All-Ohio

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Talent-seeking college coaches will find Ohio's smaller high schools a happy hunting grounds this year as they go after standout footballers.

Some of the finest players in a decade dot the Class A All-Ohio high school team picked for The Associated Press by district boards of sports editors from newspapers and radio-television stations.

Many of the Class A schools played, with success, against the larger Class AA squads, and the All-Ohio youngsters are certain to find high places on the nation's collegiate teams in the near future.

Stanton Local's 205-pound tackle Larry Spires, a junior, was named to the first All-Ohio Class A defensive unit.

Leading the offensive corps, behind a stalwart hole-opening line, is sensational Jerry Click of Millersport. The 170 - pound 5-11 senior, in the last two years at quarterback, has led his team to a 19-1 record, and tossed at least one touchdown pass in each of the 20.

In the two campaigns he's completed 149 of 261 passes for 2,945 yards and 44 touchdowns, and passed for 23 two-point conversions. On defense he intercepted 11 enemy aerials.

At halfback are Oberlin Firelands' great Ted Pechaitis and Montpelier's Larry Pressler, each 190 pounds and 6-1. Pechaitis scored 132 points in leading his team to its first clean campaign, while Pressler, who operated most of the time at quarterback, ran for 300 yards in 64 tries, and completed 61 of 114 passes for 890 yards and eight touchdowns.

Mike Beier of Fremont St. Joseph—the state's tenth-ranked team—won the fullback berth easily. He's never been in a losing game, and the 190-pound six-footer scored 98 points as he reached for 1,289 yards to outgain all opposition by 33 yards.

With Click and Pressler on the first team, and West Jefferson's Mike Healy picking up the second team signal - calling spot, there wasn't room for many quarterback eye-catchers. The likes of Dave Neil of New London, who led his team to a 9-1 mark after a 1-9 effort in 1963, finished among the honorable mentions.

But a player had to be a great one to make even the "honorable" list, for more than 15,000 boys were on the Class A teams.

Here are the selections:

SPIRES PICKED. Big Larry Spires, 6-1, 205-pound tackle and linebacker for Stanton Local High School, is congratulated by Coach Howard Gilger for being picked as Stanton's first All-Ohio gridder. Spires, who runs the 100 yard dash in 10.5 seconds, anchored the Red Raider defense the past season and was one of the steadiest defenders in a 6-2-1 season. An older brother, Don (Wilt) Spires, was an All-Ohio basketball player in 1961-62 and is now performing for Ohio University. Stanton Local replaced Irondale High, where the first all-stater was Junior Hart, a basketball star in the 1940's. Spires is only a junior.

Young Grid Star Critical

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Fusco, 17, a standout football player at Brecksville High School, is in critical condition at Metropolitan General Hospital suffering from encephalitis.

Hospital officials described it as the "postvaccinal type," following a smallpox vaccination 11 days ago by a family physician. The youth was vaccainated as part of his preparations to apply for college.

Encephalitis, sometimes called "sleeping sickness", is characterized by an inflammation of the brain.

Doctors are continuing tests of the suspected virus to determine positive cause. Hospital officials said the boy's disease is not contagious.

Fusco, 6-feet-4 and 240 pounds, was first taken to Parma Community Hospital after he was found unconscious by his father on the living room floor of the family home in Broadview Heights. Later, he was transferred to Metropolitan General Hsopital.

Given New SA Post

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lt. Col. Paul S. Kaiser, division commander for the Northeastern Ohio Area of the Salvation Army, has been appointed to the administrative staff in New York City, effective in February. Kaiser, who will serve as staff secretary, will be the chief administrator in 11 eastern states, Gustave A. Peterson, chairman of the group's advisory board here said Tuesday.

Sprinters Sign NFL Contracts

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Dallas Cowboys and New York Giants, destined to finish far up the track in this year's National Football League race, should have speed to burn in 1965.

Sprinters Bob Hayes and Henry Carr, double gold medal winners at the Tokyo Olympic Games, signed contracts Tuesday with the Cowboys and Giants, respectively.

The NFL clubs, running sixth and seventh in the Eastern Division with one game remaining, outbid American League rivals for the speedsters, who hope to make the grade as flanker backs or defensive secondary men.

Hayes, who played his football at Florida A&M, was a future choice of both Dallas and Denver of the AFL in the 1963 draft. Carr, of Arizona State University, was a future pick of the Giants and Kansas City of the AFL in last month's pro draw.

Hayes, 21, played flanker, running back and safety for the Rattlers while handling the punting and place-kicking duties. The 5-foot-10, 186-pound flash holds world's records in the 100-yard dash, 9.1, and 100-meter event, 10.0. He won the 100 meters at Tokyo and anchored the winning U.S. 400-meter relay team.

Carr, 6-3 and 195 pounds, played one season at Arizona State, missed the next year because of injuries and passed up the 1964 campaign for the Olympics, where he captured the 200-meter sprint and anchored the American foursome that won the 1,600-meter relay.

Belmont Mystery Slaying Solved; Charges Filed

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP) —Belmont County Prosecutor William H. Irwin said today he had solved the 1956 mystery slaying of Mrs. Jean Ashton Goff, 23, and filed a first-degree murder charge against a 30 - year - old former Martins Ferry taxi driver, Marvin Schrebe, now of Hebron, W. Va.

Mrs. Goff, mother of four and wife of a Greyhound bus driver, was shot to death in her home near here about midnight of July 4, 1956.

For years, local authorities had assumed an intruder, possibly bent on robbery or sex attack on Mrs. Goff, was responsible. Prosecutor Irwin kept his investigation alive, however, and over the years had questioned hundreds of persons.

Schrebe, now in jail in Hebron Pleasants County, W. Va., denied he knew anything about the slaying. He agreed to waive extradition and he is expected to be brought to the Belmont County jail within the next few days.

If there's both leftover turkey and ham at your house, your family are likely to welcome it sandwiched between squares of hot cornbread. Top with cheese or mushroom sauce. Cranberry sauce and a green salad can complete this main course.

Fire Estimated At $33,660 In Explosion, Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fire officials have estimated damage at $33,600 at the Sinclair Refining Co., bulk station on Columbus north side where an explosion and fire destroyed a loading platform and tanker - type truck.

The fire was triggered Tuesday night when 1,000 gallons of kerosene blew up while it was being loaded into the truck. The blast was heard two miles away and 100-foot flames lit the sky.

Although two men were on the loading dock at the time, no one was injured.

Two alarms brought more than 30 pieces of fire-fighting equipment. Two foam trucks from Port Columbus Airport finally put out the blaze.

Officials said the fire was dangerously close to two tanks containing highly volatile octane but firemen managed to keep the fire from the tanks.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has started to do little things which annoy me no end. Please tell me how to cope before I flip my wig.

If he puts on a shirt and a button is off he drapes it over a lamp or rolls it in a ball and places it on my breakfast plate.

If the kitchen utensil drawer (strictly for odds and ends) should become disarranged he pulls out the entire drawer and leaves it on top of the TV.

Last night we ran out of milk and he put the empty milk bottle in my bed. These not-so-subtle hints that I'm not doing my job are driving me crazy. Why doesn't he come right out and tell me I'm a lousy housekeeper instead of being so dogoned cute? Any suggestions? — SLOW BURN.

Dear Burn: Register no response to his precious gimmicks and he'll cut them out.

Drawers do become disarranged and sugar bowls do get low, in the best of families. These are not legitimate signs of sloppy housekeeping.

But about those shirts, Babe, — I'm with him. A man who puts on a shirt and finds a button missing has a right to blow his top. When you get THIS needle, Lambie-Pie, run some thread through it and start sewing.

Expensive Stupidity

Dear Ann: I'm 27 years old and have a wife and four children. I'm associated with my father in the ranching business.

My father was always a stern taskmaster, which I resented. During my sophomore year in high school he told me if I abstained from using tobacco and alcohol until I was 21 he would leave me a sizeable inheritance. I felt he had no right to impose such restrictions on my personal life and I turned down the bribe.

Now, 10 years late, my father reminded me of it. Last week he reviewed his will and my "early stuborness," as he put it, will cost me about a quarter of a million dollars.

Do you consider this fair? — ABC.

Dear ABC: You bet I do. Your father was not trying to bribe you. He made a handsome offer which you turned down.

So far as I am concerned, teen-age smoking and drinking is stupid. In your case it was not only stupid, it was darned expensive.

Brother's Keeper

Dear Ann: My wife's brother robbed a small store and got $16. It was his second offense and he was on probation because of his age.

My wife was worried sick that this time he'd end up in jail. She begged me to go to the station and say I did it. I love my wife very much and agreed to do this foolish thing to make her happy.

When my father heard about it he came down to the station and told them I must be taking the rap for somebody because he and I were at the ball game together at the time of the robbery. When my father showed them the ticket stubs they let me go and arrested my wife's brother.

Now my wife is mad at me. She says her brother will have to serve time and it's my fault for not denying my father's story. I'm afraid she will leave me and take the children. What can I do? CONFUSED.

Dear Confused: It sounds like you married into a great little family.

You can't do much about a wife who'd rather send her innocent husband to jail than her guilty brother.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

When you are coring apples or pears before baking, don't cut through the blossom end if the core cavity is to be stuffed with sugar and butter or similar ingredients.

THE PAPER LINK

Dean Bennett holds in his hands a simple piece of paper that's worth many times its weight in gold to a lot of people. The paper is an order for special steel being processed at Midland Works.

As paper it's worth little but as an order, it is extremely valuable. It represents a customer communication calling for the linking together of skills, talents, and experience of a big team of Crucible specialists. Every employe who contributes to the order - - including some who may not even be aware of it - - is individually important to satisfying the customer's needs, retaining his confidence in Crucible, and soliciting additional future business.

Thus the effort of every employe from sale to the customer's receipt of the finished product, helps shape the company's future as he shapes his own in working to achieve "quality on time."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Here is how I removed rust spots from the legs of my chrome dinette set:

I crumpled a piece of aluminum foil into a ball, then scrubbed the rust spots with this ball of wadded aluminum.

When all the rust had been removed, I coated the areas with colorless nail polish to prevent further rust.

JULIA.

DEAR JULIA: You're right as rain!

We have had many letters (some from authorities) saying that the wadded ball of aluminum foil is excellent for cleaning chrome, whether on furniture or on car bumpers and chrome trim.

It has an electro-chemical reaction which will surprise you.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To make lump-free cream soup, empty the contents of the soup can into a pan and add the liquid. Give it a few quick strokes with your potato masher! Beat the soup and serve it.

If you have a blender, blend with the liquid before heating. Absolutely wonderful!

NANCY.

DEAR HELOISE: Sewing is my hobby, therefore my sewing machine is always open.

I found that I had to dust it every time I wanted to use it until I discovered that the end of a discarded pillowcase fits right over the head of the machine.

MRS. H. C. ROGERS.

Besides not having to dust the machine every time, you are protecting it and keeping dust from getting into all those little oil holes, etc. Also, the cotton pillow slip helps absorb any excess moisture, thus helping prevent rust, etc.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My mother-in-law taught me years ago that when washing white shirts never to lift them from the water in such a way as to allow the water to go through the bottom of the pocket . . . but always let the water run out the top.

This way, if there should be any rust particles, lint or anything else, in the water, it will not lodge in the corners of the pockets and leave them dingy.

MRS. H. C.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep a tightly - closed jar full of chopped onions in the refrigerator.

This comes in handy when I want to sprinkle on a spoonful of onion when frying an egg or when frying those left-over potatoes. It is also handy for spooning on hamburgers or franks. Saves chopping an onion every time.

Pet Lovers Turn Toward Exotic Animals To Give Their Homes a Different Air

LIKE GOLD, pets are where you find them. If you get a warm feeling nuzzling a bobcat, if you enjoy taking an aardvark for a stroll, or if a reunion with your crocodile brings tears to your eyes, who can find fault with this wonderfully human trait?

Man has persisted in harboring and loving pets since the days when people in the next cave objected, and they apparently will go on doing so. True, for centuries most pets also had some work to do—the dog rounded up the stock and the cat rounded up the mice.

But now, the pet that exists solely for its own sake as something to love and cavort with, is coming into vogue. A survey shows that scores of unusual creatures have been taken into American homes and accepted as members of the family, along with the traditional dogs, cats, canaries and guppies.

Whether it's an iguana or a chimpanzee, a kinkajou or a chipmunk, there's a human friend waiting somewhere to invite him in and go to all sorts of trouble to find whatever rare and exotic food he favors. The reward is fun and years of mutual friendship, as the pet lovers in these pictures can testify. They are raising their friends in New York City or New Jersey.

Ten-year-old Judy Gilmartin finds that her pet duck takes to walks on a leash the way he ought only to take to water.

Stinky the skunk is nothing his name implies. Anthony Ficarotta says that he spreads sweetness around the home in New York City.

Rosalyn Immer has an iguana for companionship. The loving lizard also likes to play with the Immer family cat.

Rita and William Vandivert acquired Barnaby, a kinkajou, three years ago while working on book; decided to keep him.

Barbara Rawlins, a model, calls her frog Prince Charming, but he is not making progress in getting back into shape.

United Fund Nearing Goal At $107,062

The East Liverpool Area's United Fund drive was within 3 per cent of its $110,000 goal today, and officials hoped to achieve the campaign objective by next week.

R. K. Roofing Co.'s contribution of $1,000 — $500 each from the firm and its employes — boosted the collections to $107,062, James Locke, drive chairman, announced.

Some 200 reminders have been mailed to small businesses, organizations and professionals who have not yet reported. Some industries have not completed their campaigns.

Funds from the campaign are used to aid 12 area organizations —two more than last year when the goal of $95,000 was exceeded.

Drive officials, who said a final report is expected next week, expressed belief the 1964 goal will be met if prospective donors continued the trend of increased contributions.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Good Handwriting Needed In School

The neatness and legibility of your school child's handwriting, especially in the elementary grades, has a close bearing on his success at school. If his writing is ugly in appearance and hard to read, his teacher is inclined to grade its content lower than if it is attractive and legible. The child himself gets more pleasure from his handwriting when it looks well. His classmates also notice it with approval.

Dr. Garry Myers

In most schools today, the child in the first and second grades usually writes with a kind of print called manuscript writing. Late in the second grade or early third he is taught to write about as adults do. The letters in each word are then joined together. This is called cursive writing.

—:—

WHEN your young child writes manuscript style at home, do your best to encourage him to write each word neatly and plainly. If he does so, then he will be inclined to write neatly and plainly at cursive writing later.

At either type of writing, he needs to learn to observe good alignment and to shape each letter carefully. He does not need to be urged to write fast. He will be inclined to hurry too much. You may help him most as you win him to go slowly and carefully.

If in the third or higher grades his teacher complains to you about his handwriting, or if you yourself notice it's poor quality, you can help him if you can be very calm and persuasive.

You may notice that he doesn't line up his words and letters well across the page. He may not leave good margins.

It may help him to have lined paper on which to write. You might draw very faint pencil lines up and down at the left and right of his page to guide his margins.

WHEN he writes numbers, he may not keep them well in line, left and right and up and down. At this you may find good ways to help him.

Also, he may not make some of the letters well. His "a" may look like "u" or "o", his "t" like "l", his "i" like "e" and so on. By carefully inspecting a bit of his written work, you can easily discover such problems. Then you may help him practice at making these letters, dwelling with him on one at a time until he shows improvement.

A good way is to provide him with a good, clear model of a sentence or a few words at the top of a lined page. Prevail on him then to write very slowly and carefully a few lines under this model. It might be best to have this model on a piece of cardboard or heavy sheet of paper.

Be satisfied if he copies two or three lines an evening. Don't keep him at it long at a time. Show strong approval for his progress.

Then, as he finishes one line, have him move down this model, covering up the line he wrote. In this way he always has the model to copy.

IF, INSTEAD he writes several lines below a model at the top of the paper, he may copy from his own last line and get worse and worse.

If you are old enough to remember the days of the old copybook, you know how each successive line you wrote was often poorer than the first.

Your success at this procedure will depend on how serene you can make the atmosphere, how slowly and carefully he writes and how willingly he cooperates with you.

My bulletin, "Your Child and His Handwriting", may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Cattle Ailment Cited In Talks To Dairymen

LISBON — Two area veterinarians alerted the Columbiana County Dairymen's Council Monday night to a resurgence of Johnes disease.

Speakers at a meeting in the Co-operative Extension Service Office were Dr. D. J. Kern of Homeworth and Dr. C. M. Hyde of Jewett. They also reported on the tuberculosis and brucellosis eradication programs in the county.

Donald Myers, county extension agent, said several county herds have Johnes Disease and the problem may well be one of major significance for area dairymen.

Johnes Disease is an old ailment of the intestinal tract similar to TB in some respects, yet impossible to detect by TB tests, the speakers said.

No control is known except to eliminate the infected animals. The disease spreads by infected pastures and water holes and is marked by severe diarrhea in acute cases, loss of weight and reduced production.

The veterinarians said TB testing will be carried on this year in five townships — Butler, Center, Elkrun, Hanover and Fairfield. They said testing was completed recently in West Township and is being done now in Knox Township.

Brucellosis tests of all dairy herds are picked up from milk ring tests, plus blood testing of 40 per cent of the beef cattle, the doctors said.

The Hot Line

Exchange Has Cultural Flavor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Moscow-Washington hot line has developed a sort of cultural exchange.

In testing the circuit, U.S. military operators sometimes send excerpts from encyclopedias across the 5,200-mile Teletype link to the Soviet capital.

And, as Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said at the United Nations, the Russians transmit sections of Ivan Turgenev's first novel, "Notes of a Hunter."

They swapped Happy New Year wishes for 1964 and there was another exchange on the first anniversary of the hot line last September.

The hot line was set up during the Kennedy administration as a device for instantaneous emergency communication between the Soviet and U.S. heads of state.

President Johnson has retained the link and the Defense Department said there has been no change in procedure since the recent Soviet government turnover which ousted Nikita Khrushchev as premier.

There is a great reluctance in the Pentgaon to say anything about the hot line's operation.

The Teletype machines at the Washington end of the circuit are in the tightly guarded National Military Command Center in the Pentagon. When necessary, the link can be extended to Johnson's ranch or other places the President may be.

The hot line complex in the center is manned by five teams, each made up of one officer and two noncommissioned officers. All services are represented. The teams work eight-hour shifts around the clock.

The line is tested every hour, day in and day out. A bell sounds and the teletype connection between the Pentagon and the Kremlin comes alive.

The Pentagon said the U.S. test messages consist basically of the standard "quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog's back."

"This sometimes is varied with the transmission of various random unclassified writings depending upon the discretion of the operator," the Pentagon said.

Informants said encyclopedia excerpts were used in the tests, but they did not disclose what subject matter was covered.

In an apparent joking vein Gromyko said the Turgenev texts aroused "great interest toward Russian classical literature on the part of the American operators."

How did the Americans react to this flow of Russian literature?

"They merely observed it," the Defense Department said.

Cleveland Asked To Bare Plans In Pollution Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board wants Cleveland officials to tell the board what plans the city has taken to abate pollution of Lake Erie, the Cuyahoga River and other streams in the area.

The board voted Tuesday to hold an informal hearing Jan. 12 so that Cleveland officials can tell their side of the story without a threat of legal action.

Dr. Emmett W. Arnold, director of the Ohio Department of Health and chairman of the Water Pollution Control Board, said that "written communications from Cleveland and conferences with our staff engineers have been inconclusive and unsatisfactory."

Man To Be Arraigned In Shooting At Planes

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Gilbert H. Hagerman, 67, of New Carlisle will be arraigned Monday on three counts charging destruction of government property for allegedly shooting at and hitting five military planes which flew near his farm.

Patrolman's Hearing Set In Soldier Death

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A Louisville patrolman suspended and charged with involuntary manslaughter in the death of a Toledo, Ohio, soldier will answer the charges in a court hearing Jan. 7.

Patrolman William C. Barrett was charged Monday in the fatal shooting of Pvt. Roger Vann Coles, 23, a Ft. Knox soldier.

Barrett said Coles was arrested Saturday on a drunkenness charge; that the soldier slipped out of the cruiser and threw a punch at him when he attempted to stop him. The suspended officer said he yelled for Coles to halt and fired one shot when the order was ignored. It struck Coles in the heart.

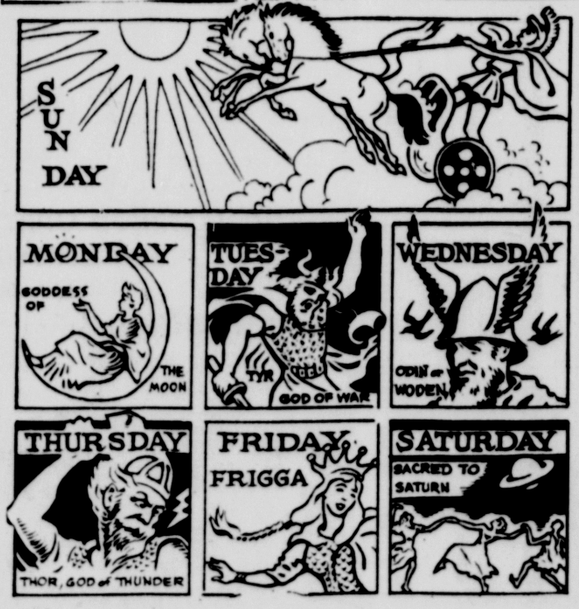
Junior Editors Quiz on DAYS



QUESTION: How were the seven days of the week named?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: In the book of Genesis in the Bible, we read of the seven days of the week, and we know the Hebrews used this time division early in their history. The ancient Romans knew of five planets, and gave the names of each to one day in the week, adding the sun and moon to complete the seven. So we have the moon's day, shortened to Monday, as the second day in the week, and Saturn's day, which we call Saturday, as the seventh. Saturn was the name of a Roman god of the harvest, so this day was associated with a holiday spirit and still is. Sunday, the day set aside by Christians for rest and worship, received its name from the wide worship of the sun by the ancients. The picture shows the Greek sun god Apollo driving his chariot, and this day was also reserved for sun worship by the ancient Teutons. Names of the other days come from Norse gods. Tuesday is from Tyr's day — Tyr being the Norse god of war. Wednesday is derived from Woden, or Odin, the chief Teutonic god — it was once called Woden's day. Odin's oldest son, Thor, god of lightning and thunder, gave his name to Thor's day or Thursday, and Odin's wife Frigga lent her name to Friday, which used to called "Frigedaeg" in Anglo-Saxon.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Are you Friday's child, or Saturday's child? Try to find out on which day of the week you were born.

★ ★ ★

William Flanagan of Roselle, N.J., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win the weekly grand prize of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

Dieters' Unsolved Problems Tend To Mount

An unhappy, overweight young mother writes: "I know that when I feel frustrated or become angry with the children, I eat and eat.

Ida Jean Kain

I cannot seem to help myself. In the five years that I have been married I have watched the scales go up and up . . . 60 pounds. I find myself more withdrawn from others. I feel as though life is passing me by. Won't you please help me?"

This is a special kind of problem. You are saying, indirectly, that you are aware something is definitely wrong. You recognize that turning to food is an attempt to find comfort, but since food has no bearing on the situation it affords no solution. Indeed it brings on a serious handicap — overweight.

BOTH for your own sake and for the sake of your children, make the effort to ferret out the cause of your discontent. Then try to find a way of coping directly with the real problem. Recognize that not only are you piling on excess pounds by turning to food as an escape, but you are allowing the frustrations of daily living to force you into running away instead of coming to grips with the situation.

It is a basic truth that unsolved problems do tend to get bigger!

You ask for help, but there is no spark of enthusiasm or hope expressed in your letter. But look, you are young and healthy! So much depends on your point of view. When your mind is bogged down with the thought that you are trapped and that life is passing you by, it is difficult to pull up out of the rut.

NOW TO your slimming plans: Actually it requires a change in your attitude. Do an about-face in your thinking. Instead of regarding figure-fixing as just another try, see it as a new beginning. Take the attitude that your new eating and exercise program will help you to look like the attractive girl he married. With this challenging incentive, the whole plan becomes an adventure.

No time to exercise? You'll take the time for a 10 minute break when you realize that muscular flabbiness contributes to frustrations. With enhanced well-being you can deal more effectively with everyday problems.

To get over the trapped feeling, arrange to have a part of one day away from the children. Bow, swim, walk. . .do something active. You'll come home refreshed.

Change your thinking, give yourself a stimulating challenge and, to your own astonishment, your situation will change.

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Eat To Build Leanness and Isometric Exercises. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Post car requests cannot be answered.

You can make a simple glaze for a coffee cake with confectioners sugar, orange juice and grated orange rind. This orange-flavored topping is particularly delicious used over a yeast-risen coffee cake that contains raisins, and nuts.

Rogers Council Orders Ladders

ROGERS — Purchase of heavy - duty ladders for use by village employes and the volunteer fire department was authorized by Council at a meeting Monday night.

The three sections of insulated ladder will cost some $200.

Council voted a resolution of thanks to Gene Hidinger, who contributed a Christmas tree erected outside the Community Hall.

Mayor Glenn Rhodes and Glenn Baker, council president, presided. Bills totaling $1,144 were paid.

Erection of signs warning against passing of school buses in the village was reported.

A special meeting will be held Dec. 28 to conclude the year's business.

Firm Files Petition Seeking UAW Ouster

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — The Molded Fiber Glass Body Co. has filed a petition with the National Labor Relations Board seeking the ouster of United Auto Workers Local 1169 as the bargaining unit at its plant here.

The company's petition contends the union no longer is representative of the employes.
